Judge Takes Taxpayers' Suit Decision Under Submission

Superior Judge J. A. Branson, attorney for the plaintiffs, has taken under submission a decision on a suit seeking to restrain Edward J. Tomasello, recreation supervisor for Daly City, from voting on financing of a joint recreation program with the Jefferson School District, which Tomasello serves as a member of the board of trustees.

Following a three-day trial concluded Friday, Judge Branson gave additional time of about 45 days for Chief Civil Deputy District Attorney James Pardee, Daly City Attorney Al Polonsky and Richard Ben-

The taxpayers' suit, filed on behalf of Beverly Forrester, a member of the Jefferson District board of trustees, and David Parker, a resident of the district, asks a permanent injunction to prevent Tomasello from voting in the future on any allocations for joint city-school recreation programs. It also asks that the court decide on any return of money the district has allocated to the program since Tomasello has been on the board. He was elected in April, 1967.

Judge Branson indicated Thursday that the two posts which Tomasello holds may be incompatible, but did not enter a ruling.

School Employees Seek Ban on Hiring Firm

The California School Employees' Association is seeking a court order to prohibit the Jefferson Elementary School District from contracting with a private firm for gardening and landscaping services at the district's 23 schools in the Daly City area.

In a petition filed with Superior Court Tuesday on behalf of the association's 120 classified employees of the Jefferson District, attorney Richard H. Perry of Burlingame seeks an injunction to prohibit award of a contract to prohibit a contractor and subcontractor from carrying out the gardening and landscaping work, and asks the court to order the district to employ persons in the district's classified service for landscaping and gardening duties.

The district's board of trustees was scheduled to open bids for the gardening and landscaping work at its Tuesday night meeting.

Deputy District Attorney Keith Breon reported that a five-year contract under which the landscaping and gardening work has been carried out by a private firm expired June 30.

The suit contends that use of public funds for payment on a contract with a private firm exceeds the district's authority and is in violation of the Education Code requiring school districts to employ classified employees for all performable services, not otherwise specifically excluded by statute.

$8-Million Complex in Bruno OK'd

By Jack Bik

An $8 million office complex and a $585,000 single-family home tract were among developments approved last week by the San Bruno Planning Commission.

The office complex will be built on the 11.2-acre site now occupied by the hot houses of the Avansino-Mortensen Whole-Sale Nurseries, located for many years on Sneath Lane. Appearing at the meeting to describe the plan were Edgar M. Thrift Jr. of Congdon, Castle & Thrift Investment Co. of Redwood City, and Dan McLarry of Lincoln Properties of Menlo Park. The two firms will develop the complex as a joint venture.

Architect Piero N. Patri of Whisler-Patri of San Francisco showed a series of slides depicting buildings he designed which he said would be typical of the buildings planned. The buildings will be two-story, with a Spanish motif, appearing similar in design to the Sanchez Adobe in Pacifica. He promised heavy landscaping.

At the recommendation of Planning Consultant Larry Wise, the planners approved the (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Boy Injured By Car in Bruno

A 4½-year-old boy injured in an auto-pedestrian accident in San Bruno Sunday afternoon is reported in serious condition in Peninsula Hospital but "holding his own."

The boy is William R. Mateo Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mateo, 34 Los Olivas, Daly City.

Police said that the boy ran out into the street, behind a parked car on the 800 block of Easton Avenue as Nello Ciucci, 60, San Francisco, was driving his own.

The boy is being treated in the intensive care ward for a fractured skull.

Bay Area's First Female Motor Vehicle Examiner, in Daly City

FRANK LAPIERRE

It isn't easy being the first girl motor vehicle examiner in the Bay Area. Especially when that job has been reserved for men in years past.

But Cathy Cirimele—all 5' 1" of her—feels she's up to the job. More, she has to set a good example for those women who may follow in her footsteps.

Cathy is a pert honey-blonde, 24 years old, single, and notes with some bewilderment not one of the males she has escorted on a road test around Daly City has turned wolf.

Matter of fact, Cathy confesses, the women she encounters during her daily routine at the Department of Motor Vehicle examining office on Sullivan Avenue give her the most trouble.

Will she make the DMV a career?

"I've only been here since last November," Cathy says.

"This job sounded interesting, and so I took it. My plans at this time are indefinite."

"Oddly enough the women taking tests give me the most static," she says.

She finds it difficult to be a public employee, but thinks the experience is invaluable. She was going to be a school teacher—but I couldn't get a job."

Following a series of tests and training in San Mateo the native of Fresno was assigned to the Daly City DMV office as an examiner.

There are reports that several other women examiners work in the state. However, Cathy is the only one to do full-time duty on the road test end of examinations.

Will she make the DMV a career?

Some examinees find it difficult to take the tiny tester seriously, right up to the time she rejects their application and instructs them to come back after they've studied a little harder.

What Cathy wants most at the present time is to finish her schooling. She is currently working on a master's degree in English.

Her fellow male employees kid around a lot with her "especially about women's lib."

"While I haven't really had anything interesting happen to me (she was involved in a crash shortly after arrival here when an examiner failed to negotiate a corner), I really like the work and find it very interesting," she says.

Attempts To Revive WHS Pool

DC Council Queries CATV Building Lag

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Officials of the Jefferson Union High School District are trying again to raise the proposed Westmoor Swimming Pool venture from its depths of financial despair.

The pool construction was to be a joint venture between Daly City and the school district on a 40-60 per cent cost share basis. Some three-quarters of a million dollars was proposed for the Olympic-sized facility to be built inside a modern structure on the school site.

Architect Zavin Tatarian's pool was accepted by the city and school district and went to bid.

The rude awakening came when the bids returned—twice what the joint venture agencies and architect had anticipated.

This week, JUHSD superintendent Edward Morgan urged action be taken to insure interest in the project was still alive. He said time was against the district because of the annual budget and capital outlay priorities. The district wanted some idea what to do.

Mayor Bernard Lycett, however, informed the school officials he could not make any commitment on the matter because councilman Tony Giacomo, chairman of the city committee studying the pool proposal, was out of town on vacation.

But the school Board of Trustees went on record favoring exploration of the pool venture.

Chairman (Mrs.) Jane Powell said she wanted to "let the people know our board is still interested in this."

Morgan had asked the joint meeting three questions: (1) Does the JUHSD Board and Daly City desire to construct a swimming pool at Westmoor (2) what instructions would they have regarding financial sharing between the two agencies, and (3) which of the agencies, the city or school district, should seek the services of a new architect.

Lycett mentioned that the pool had already resulted in expenditure of monies, had required long talks, and resulted in a "sad ending."

Last week, Morgan had asked his board to take a wait-and-see-what-the-outcome-of-the joint meeting would be before acting on the pool.

Morgan said he would settle for "a fairly definitive answer in a fairly reasonable time."

Two local citizens—Pat McMillan and Austin Minot—informed the council and school board they had taken it upon themselves to investigate the possibility of pool construction.

In talks with the construction firm that built the pool in South San Francisco they said they understood architectural plans could possibly be drawn up for far less money if Daly City followed the same basic design as the SSF pool.

Lloyd Schwartz seeks the damages on behalf of his son, Steven, who, according to the complaint, suffered the loss of his left eye, injury to his right eye and injury to his right hand.

Named defendants in the complaint, filed by attorney Hugh B. Miller, of San Francisco, are Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Berry and their son, Franklin, 17, of 874 Camaritas Avenue, South San Francisco.

The August 8 hearing is on the County Planning Commission's recommended park and open space sites lying south of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway near the mountain's saddle area, and includes a proposal that some 40 acres abutting the headwaters of Colma Creek north of the parkway be included as a buffer zone between the park and anticipated development.

years ago, the cable company was to have had its system available to 5,000 homes for hook-up by June, 1971 and to 15,000 homes by last month.

About 2,700 Daly City homes are now subscribing to the cable, with the system available to about 7,000 homes—mostly in the far eastern sector of the city and the Bayshore district.

It was also agreed during hearings on the matter four years ago that Vista Grande would build a local studio to be completed by December of this year. Construction has not started.

According to a franchise agreement entered into between the city and Vista Grande four

The original franchise ordinance (No. 990) was passed on September 23, 1968 and became effective October 23, 1968. It relieved an earlier cable company from its franchise obligations because of alleged poor service and turned over the franchise to Vista Grande.

Vista Grande's contract with the city was first represented by former Daly City Engineer Bill Chapman and, later, by attorney (now city councilman) Paul Hupf.

Hupf said he no longer represents the company since becoming a city councilman last April. Some stock of the company is still held by Hupf's wife, but the majority stockholder and president of the corporation—which also owns Pacifica Cable, Brisbane Cable, and systems in Half Moon Bay, Montara and Hayward—is Mrs. Elizabeth B. Murphy, widow of millionaire publisher Morgan Murphy, who died last year.

Included among the shareholders is Thomas F. Noonan of Daly City, Norman Tobias of Saratoga, and Henry Gastman. Gastman and Chapman received their shares in October, 1968, in consideration for services rendered to the cable company.

Par value of the stock is claimed to be $100 each. However, Chapman's 560 shares were sold and distributed among Tobias, Noonan and Mrs. Hupf for $1 each. Such devaluation is not unusual, according to a San Francisco stockbroker.

"You get what the market dictates," he explained.

Terms of the franchise include hooking up schools to the system and making available a closed circuit line for the purpose of education.

Date Set for Airing Bruno Mountain Plan

A date of August 8 at 2:15 p.m. was scheduled by the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday for a public hearing on a recommendation for inclusion in the county master plan of a 1,040-acre site on San Bruno Mountain for park and open space use.

But the school Board of Trustees went on record favoring exploration of the pool venture.

Chairman (Mrs.) Jane Powell said she wanted to "let the people know our board is still interested in this."

According to the board, the county make an effort to enlist San Francisco assistance in acquiring the entire mountain for a regional park, precluding any residential or commercial development there.

Although Board Chairman Gerald Day is attempting to set up a meeting with San Francisco officials to discuss a joint venture on the mountain proposal, his colleagues expressed little hope that the estimated $100 million needed to buy the entire undeveloped area of the mountain could be obtained.

Goercke said the mountain would serve as a buffer zone between the highly developed areas of San Francisco and northern San Mateo County. He suggested that the park could be administered by the East Bay Regional Park System, which "has the expertise."

As to financing, Goercke proposed going after all the federal and state funding available, and then securing the balance on a 20 to 30-year bond issue. Continued maintenance of the park would be through a proposed regional park district comprising portions of San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Although Board Chairman Gerald Day is attempting to set up a meeting with San Francisco officials to discuss a joint venture on the mountain proposal, his colleagues expressed little hope that the estimated $100 million needed to buy the entire undeveloped area of the mountain could be obtained.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, he said he even wrote to State Sen. Arlen Gregorio concerning use of surplus funds from a state open space bond measure, but was informed that San Bruno Mountain was of too low priority for consideration.

Supervisor Jean Fassler suggested that Goercke contact the regional planning committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, stating that she believes ABAG eventually will be developing a nine-county regional park concept and might well take San Bruno Mountain into consideration.

The August 8 hearing is on the County Planning Commission's recommended park and open space sites lying south of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway near the mountain's saddle area, and includes a proposal that some 40 acres abutting the headwaters of Colma Creek north of the parkway be included as a buffer zone between the park and anticipated development.

According to the suit, the Schwartz youth was injured in May or June, 1970, by fireworks possessed and controlled by the Berry's.

It is asserted in the complaint that the defendants were in violation of the State Health and Safety Code and of a San Francisco ordinance in possessing the fireworks.

Deputies Arrest 3 Men for Narcotics

Three men were arrested by two reserve deputy sheriffs early Tuesday when they stopped to help them on San Mateo-Half Moon Bay Road and found marijuana, hashish, dangerous drugs, a hashish pipe and two roach clips in their car.

Booked at county jail were Steven E. Webb, 25, a service station attendant of 244 Bonita Avenue, South San Francisco, charged with possession of marijuana, possession of dangerous drugs, possession of dangerous drugs for sale, transporting dangerous drugs, possession of narcotics paraphernalia, contributing to the delinquency of minors, resisting arrest, assault and battery and having an open container of an alcoholic beverage in his car;

Thomas J. Shaughnessy, 20, a shipping and receiving clerk of 223 Camaritas Avenue, South San Francisco, charged with possession of marijuana, possession of dangerous drugs, transportation of dangerous drugs, possession of narcotics paraphernalia and possession of an alcoholic beverage by a minor, and,

Jeffrey P. Donati, 19, a clerk of 7 Toledo Court, Burlingame, charged with possession of marijuana, possession of dangerous drugs, possession of dangerous drugs for sale, transportation of dangerous drugs, possession of narcotics and possession of an alcoholic beverage by a minor.

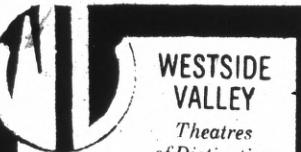

Reserve Deputies David Allen and Robert J. Reed reported they spotted the trio's car stopped along the side of the road about two miles east of California Highway at 1:15 a.m.

When they stopped to see if they could help, they reported Webb spat in the face of Reed. When Allen checked the car after calling for cover from Half Moon Bay police, he reported he found a plastic bag of marijuana on the rear seat, open beer

Holdup Told Bruno Police

A 32-year-old Burlingame painter reported to San Bruno police that he was held up by the driver of a car he caught a ride with in San Bruno.

Carlos Gordon Kenison Jr., 32, 1321 Carmelita Avenue, told police he was hitch-hiking on San Bruno Avenue. The driver who picked him up drove him through Crestmoor at which point he turned a .45-caliber pistol on him and demanded he give him his glasses and wallet. He let the victim out in Half Moon Bay, and Kenison spent the rest of the day walking back to San Bruno, he told police.

The council also upgraded the salary scale for the position of park superintendent from a low of $905 and a high of $1,102 a month to a low of $998 and a high of $1,216 a month in order to meet salary requirements of newly appointed Park Superintendent John Hoffman.

Another pay raise given was to Harvey Mills, construction inspection engineer hired in November of last year to watch over the construction of the city's new wastewater treatment plant.

When hired he was given $1,417 a month, plus use of a city vehicle. There were no fringe benefits or overtime allowed.

The council upped his salary effective July 1 to $1,500 a month, and, because the city was unable to provide a city car, also gave him a 10-cent-a-mile car allowance not to exceed $70 a month.

Recommended salary increases amounting to $2,675 for the next fiscal year for part-time employees was held up because Councilman Stan Farber wanted to include increment raises for school crossing guards. They now get a flat rate.

The $2,675 is an across-the-board salary increase of 3.2 per cent.

In order to improve Fassler Avenue it will be necessary to cut and fill. Extra fill is planned to be relocated on a seven-acre site that land-owner Ken Royce deeded to the city on the condition that the property would be used for a civic center site.

The gnawing concern, especially of those opposed to the Fassler Avenue site for a civic center, is that if this is not sanctioned a study is to be completed by March 1, 1973, by a representative appointed from Firefighters' Local Union 1543 to work on a committee to be established by the city's personnel commission for the purpose of investigating the possibility of eliminating social security coverage and converting to California Highway Patrol retirement system for public employees.

bottles, a plastic bag containing tablets and another container with pills in the glove compartment, some hashish on a shelf behind the rear seat and a white envelope apparently containing dangerous drugs in Webb's pocket.

The residential development represents the final settlement of the dispute over the use of the old Junipero Serra Boulevard right of way along the new Cunningham Way, which had culminated in a referendum election in April. The voters reversed the city council's zoning of the site to permit 13-duplexes to be built.

The planners also last week voted, at the request of embattled owner Bob Berryman, to rezone five lots from neighborhood-commercial to R-1, single family. The other eight lots were already zoned R-1.

"Because of the feeling of the people in the neighborhood," Berryman told the planners, "there seemed to be no use to my coming in with any kind of a townhouse development. I'm still preparing to widen Cunningham Road from 35 to 40 feet which will allow two lanes of traffic each way."

He said the neighbors also asked that there be no parking on the east side of Cunningham. Although he had no power to grant this request, he said it would be reasonable since his houses would all have two-car garages and two-lane driveways.

He stressed that the homes would need no variances of any kind, since the lots would all be oversize and designed for completely conventional homes.

They would probably be two stories, about 1,800 square feet apiece, with three bedrooms and a family room, and cost $45,000.

Barbara Simon, who signed the ballot argument against the duplexes, told the planners that the neighbors would still prefer the area remain in open space, but since it seems to be inconceivable that the city would buy the site, she felt that this would be the best plan.

The fire captain scale as of July 1 goes from a low of $939 to a high of $1,143 a month. That's an increase over last year from a low of $928 and a high of $1,129 a month. As of Jan. 1, 1973, the fire captain scale goes from a low of $977 a month to a high of $1,189 a month.

Contributions by the city to firemen's health insurance, which carries an added insurance rider for medication, will be $17.52 a month per employee. The cost of one dependent will be $35.04 and for two or more dependents $50.48 a month.

In addition, a study is to be completed by March 1, 1973, by a representative appointed from Firefighters' Local Union 1543 to work on a committee to be established by the city's personnel commission for the purpose of investigating the possibility of eliminating social security coverage and converting to California Highway Patrol retirement system for public employees.

laid its line to Brisbane over Vista Grande's agreement with the city.

Similar concern over cable TV and its future has been voiced in recent months throughout the nation.

Instead of an easement grant, the cable company was given a revocable right of way for its cable transmission line.

Trustees Dorothy Adams and Beverly Forrester accessed the school administration of granting the right of way without formal board action. They went a step further and alleged the reason this right of way was granted was because an easement takes four votes.

"And (Associate for Business Roger Barthuli) knew he would not get four votes for approval," Mrs. Adams said.

The line that passes the school site services Brisbane, which started hookups to subscribers last week.

Barthuli, responding to questions on the JFK School approval for the cable, said he allowed the cable to school property.

"Costs of local program origination is staggering," Hufp said.

In the face of this, many CATV firms are closing shop or selling out to larger firms.

Fishing Pier Job Awarded In Pacifica

Pacifica's new fishing pier and sewer outfall to the ocean in the city's Sharp Park area will be built by the Healy Tibbits Construction Company.

The bid was let Monday night for $2,226,500 and necessitated the rescinding of an earlier resolution that had on June 12 conditionally awarded the contract to the Guy F. Atkinson Company.

However, two funding agencies, the State Water Resources Control Board and the Wildlife Conservation Board, both determined that the low responsive bidder was Healy Tibbits.

Councilman Stan Farber said that it would be cheaper for the city to place the fill on the proposed civic center site rather than having to truck it to some other location.

He also noted that the acreage promised by Royce does not have to be a city hall. It could be a library, a fire station or any other civic building."

Councilman Harland Minshaw requested that a running tally be made of the cost of all soil tests done on the fill placed at the proposed civic center site.

He also noted that the acreage promised by Royce does not have to be a city hall. It could be a library, a fire station or any other civic building."

S.S.F. Council Looks At Cycle Park Sites

A resolution in support of county efforts to provide motorcycle and mini-bike trails through a motorized regional park was introduced last week by South San Francisco councilmen.

City officials also instructed its staff members to pursue possibilities of using several sites within that city for mini-bikes.

Fred Hull, director of the newly formed Department of Ecological Development (DED), said minimal standards required for a motorcycle park is 100 acres, and that most cyclists desire hillside terrain.

He noted that the county is currently forming a committee to determine motorcycle needs on a regional basis.

The need for motorcycle and mini-bike park sites was brought to the council's attention several weeks ago by Police Officer Frank Brown.

At that time, Councilman Bill Borba noted that the city has property available at the Oyster Point Marina and off South Airport Boulevard near the sanitary sewer plant.

It also was pointed out then by City Attorney John Noonan that there would be problems of noise and dust created by larger bikes, plus the fact that the Oyster Point dump site could cause problems with the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Hull's report listed also as possibilities Belle Air Island and Sign Hill, adding none of the sites are consistent with the requirements of the county and state.

He said they were lacking in size, had soil erosion problems, plus the possibility of noise pollution.

City Planner Dan Pass said the Belle Air site consists of 39 acres and that the site off South Airport Boulevard contains only six acres. "Both are unstable and under control of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission," said Pass.

Gellert Park Plans Shown D.C. Council

Proposed plans for the new Gellert Park in the Serramonte section of Daly City were unveiled before a city council study session last week.

Initially the 25-acre park site will consume some $100,000 in federal and $130,000 in city funds to be used for irrigation, turfing, paving, parking areas and general landscaping.

It will feature four baseball diamonds, 160 parking stalls, picnic shelters, horse shoe courts, basketball, tennis courts, a soccer field, 16,000 square-foot recreation building, 16,000 square-foot two-story library, 3,000 square-foot recreation building and a 3,000 square-foot tot lot.

City Manager David Rowe emphasized the plans were flexible and could be altered to facilitate needs and funds available.

Seating for the ballfields could be carved out of the hillside, Rowe explained, thus giving maximum use of the level area.

Councilman Louis J. Papan suggested obtaining the services of an expert in the recreational engineering field.

According to police, the plan was stopped at about 4:30 a.m. near the firm. Found in their car was property including cameras and office supplies, police said.

"Planning the layout of recreational fields is a science nowadays and I suggest we obtain the services of an expert," Papan said.

SSF Arrests 2 for Theft

South San Francisco police Thursday arrested two youths for burglary of the Brown Bevis Co., 326 Shaw Road.

Booked were George A. Slepnikoff, 19, of 29A Buena Vista, San Bruno, and William H. Montreuil, 19, of Fremont.

The Planning Commission voted to recommend rezoning the city-owned portion of Crestmoor Canyon from U (unclassified) to O (open space). The planners acted after Miller, frustrated by a request from the state for a 90-day delay in the rezoning of his portion of the canyon, as well as Skyline, asked that the planners at least rezone the city-owned portion.

"This has got to be for low-income housing," she said.

But Hagan explained the portion building and a 3,000 square-foot tot lot.

City Manager David Rowe emphasized the plans were flexible and could be altered to facilitate needs and funds available.

Seating for the ballfields could be carved out of the hillside, Rowe explained, thus giving maximum use of the level area.

Councilman Louis J. Papan suggested obtaining the services of an expert in the recreational engineering field.

According to police, the plan was stopped at about 4:30 a.m. near the firm. Found in their car was property including cameras and office supplies, police said.

"Planning the layout of recreational fields is a science nowadays and I suggest we obtain the services of an expert," Papan said.

What Miller was seeking was a rezoning of all the state-owned highway right of way which may conceivably become surplus, to an O zone, open space, so that it can never be developed for homes or business. This included mostly a wide band on both sides of Skyline Boulevard, purchased previously for possible widening or free-way of Skyline, and the right of way of the controversial extension of Freeway 380 through Crestmoor Canyon.

Appearing to lodge a protest was "the state of California" in the person of Attorney A. Matthew Riggio. He expressed the fear that San Bruno's action would constitute a precedent for all similar state-owned land. He announced a top-level meeting in Sacramento would be held to formulate some policy in regard to such a situation, and requested a 90-day delay.

Commissioner Bill Cox asked the attorney to tell Sacramento that San Bruno would be setting no precedent since its situation is unique. The city may ask a scenic highway designation of Skyline, which would by state action impose the equivalent of open space zoning. In addition, the San Andreas Fault runs parallel to the highway.

Raggio raised the audience's ire when he said he thought the zoning would be inappropriate since "380 will be built." Elmer Butler asked the source of his information. Chairman Girvin Whitney announced that "whether or not 380 is built does not come within the purview of this commission," and cut off argument on the freeway's extension.

Deputy City Atty. Dermot Fitzgerald said the zoning would have no effect upon the state should it decide to go ahead and build a highway. Only should it decide to sell off the land would the O-zone take effect.

Pay Increase Granted SSF City Aides

South San Francisco councilmen Thursday approved 3 percent pay increases, a fully paid dental plan and increased cost of employee health plans for two employee union groups.

The agreement, which also was given to employees not covered by unions, including department and division heads, was with the police and Municipal Employees' Association.

Two employee groups yet to sign "memorandums of understanding" are the firemen and street and parks employees, both deeply involved in the recent dispute over job security that almost led to a strike.

D.C. Project Plans Aired

A capacity crowd of Daly City residents — mostly senior citizens — listened to a presentation concerning housing for seniors given by two developers at the Daly City Hall Friday.

Representatives from the Mission Merchants' Association, Hillside Homeowners, Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association and local senior citizens groups attended the program called by Mayor Bernard Lyttle.

It was the first time both developers — Bernard Hagan and Philip Wallace — had made presentations before the public.

At one point in the talks, Mayor Lycett had to call Hagan and Wallace to order when a verbal confrontation between the pair erupted.

Hagan proposes building 112 units on four floors near the First-Market street area, while Wallace plans a 120-unit, three-story complex on Market Street nearby.

Lycett said he wanted both

Portion of Crestmoor to Open Space

San Bruno Planning Commissioner Leon Miller — who had been experiencing a rocky road in his drive to put as much of the city as possible into open space zoning, or into lower density zoning, experienced a small success Wednesday.

The Planning Commission voted to recommend rezoning the city-owned portion of Crestmoor Canyon from U (unclassified) to O (open space). The planners acted after Miller, frustrated by a request from the state for a 90-day delay in the rezoning of his portion of the canyon, as well as Skyline, asked that the planners at least rezone the city-owned portion.

What Miller was seeking was a rezoning of all the state-owned highway right of way which may conceivably become surplus, to an O zone, open space, so that it can never be developed for homes or business. This included mostly a wide band on both sides of Skyline Boulevard, purchased previously for possible widening or free-way of Skyline, and the right of way of the controversial extension of Freeway 380 through Crestmoor Canyon.

New organic hair remover

Hair's off in minutes, stays off for weeks.

Leaves skin beautifully smooth, free from hair... without shaving, waxing, using messy creams or foams or resorting to electrolysis.

There is now a new way to remove unwanted hair completely from face, arms, thighs, legs, wherever... and keep it off longer. You use a gentle, odorless organic compound, called Delila, and the results are simply sensational.

Delila actually lifts out the whole hair from the follicle... leaves your skin beautifully smooth and free from hair for weeks.

The little extra time Delila may take at first won't matter once you find that you can really forget about hair removal... yes, for weeks.

There are no blunt ends. No prickly stubble, no nicks or cuts. And there's no quick grow back. When hair eventually does come in, it seems sparser and baby soft.

Delila™ Natural Organic Hair Remover, Ideal for teenagers, too. $5.95 at our cosmetic counters.

D.C. Checks Plastic Tubs

Much publicity is given to those careless persons who accidentally drown in their bathtubs after slipping, but little is ever heard of persons burning to death in a tub or shower.

This is a very real possibility — setting fire to your bathtub or shower — according to Michael Cinti, vice president of the Commercial Tile Company and a considered expert in the tile field.

In a warning to the Daly City Council last week, Cinti said the use of plastic and fiberglass resin in bathtubs and stalls along with plastic piping is being considered now by several builders in the north county.

He warned that such material may be combustible and could cause death by fire.

Mayor Bernard Lycett ordered the city's Engineering Department to investigate the matter and report back to the council with the facts next week.

Cinti charged that the Housing and Urban Development department of the federal government (HUD) had stopped work on a San Francisco development after first approving use of the materials.

"Recently, a fire started in an apartment building under construction in Palo Alto. The fire started in a tub on the fourth floor and traveled through the plastic pipe and resulted in extensive damage from the fourth floor to the eighth floor," Cinti said.

Two Private Patrolmen in Drug Arrests

A Daly City couple was arrested at their home early on Thursday morning and a Vallejo man at his home by undercover agents of the San Mateo County narcotics squad after an investigation during which buys of cocaine and marijuana were made.

Booked at county jail in Redwood City were Andrew Leon Kilson Jr., 25, a patrolman for the Southern Pacific Railroad police department; his wife, Barbara Ann Kilson, 22, of 72 Garibaldi Street, Apt. 2, Daly City, and James Douglas Dickerson, 30, identified as a lieutenant in the railroad police department and Kilson's superior.

According to Lieut. Don Coslett, chief of the narcotics unit, D. L. Haley, an assistant chief of the railroad police department participated in the raids.

According to Coslett, the investigation began when another member of the police department became suspicious of Kilson's and Dickerson's activities and reported them.

During the investigation, Coslett said, a half-ounce of cocaine was purchased for $500 and a pound of marijuana was bought. He said the buys were made at a Colma bar when the two men were in uniform. Mrs. Kilson acted as a go-between, according to Coslett.

Mrs. Kilson is charged with two counts of conspiracy, sale of narcotics and sale of marijuana. Her husband is charged with two counts of sale of marijuana, one of sale of narcotics, possession of marijuana, conspiracy and carrying a concealed weapon. Dickerson was charged with sale of marijuana and conspiracy.

County Okays Devil's Slide Route Plan

The County Board of Supervisors went on record again Wednesday as favoring the current plans of the State Division of Highways for construction of the Devil's Slide bypass.

Vote on Supervisor Robert St. Clair's motion to concur with the state's existing plan was 3 to 1, with Supervisor Jean Fassler opposed, favoring that the board take no action.

The action followed submission by County Engineer S. H. Cantwell, Jr., of results of a poll in which a majority of the Montara-Moss Beach area residents indicated preference for a freeway interchange at George Street to serve the area.

Mrs. Fassler, noting that the bypass is currently tied up in litigation, said it would do no harm for the board to delay action and permit time for the board to look at the model which has been constructed depicting the proposed bypass.

However, St. Clair and Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald indicated they were impressed by the results of the poll and that the board should reaffirm its stand.

Battalion chief Orville Lusk of Montebello, California in October 1971, the Ceramic Tile Institute (CTI) blamed a 1968 fire in a triplex under construction on a plumber's torch which set ablaze a plastic bathtub being installed, according to reports.

In yet another fire, this one in director of CTI, said that in October 1971, the Ceramic Tile Institute (CTI) alleged a fire that destroyed a $1 million 250-unit apartment building under construction was caused by a torch setting a bathtub on fire.

Job Aid Sought for Youth

Mike Furth of the Daly City Information and Referral Center asked the city council Monday to aid him in obtaining more summer work for some 300 of the city's youth.

Those youths looking for work this summer all reside in Daly City — not San Francisco — Furth said.

Employment of some San Francisco youths in the local program last year caused "quite a hassle" Furth remembered.

Initially there were some 600 youths — boys and girls — signed up for summer work.

Through the efforts of the city and local community about 300 obtained temporary employment, Furth said.

The youths use the money to buy clothing and books for the school year.

Furth said the youths "will do anything" for work, such as house cleaning, painting, weeding, cleaning windows or "whatever."

Colma Couple Celebrates Golden Anniversary Date

The Broadmoor Community Center in Colma was the setting for the recent golden-anniversary party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Colombo Benedetti of Colma.

Hosting the event were the couple's three daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Silva of Martinez, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Kipperman of Clayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Helberg Sr. of Essex, Ia.

More than 200 friends and relatives were present to honor the Benedettis, native Californians who were married on June 18, 1922 at St. John's Church in San Francisco.

Among those extending congratulations were Mrs. Benedetti's sister, Louise Kubser of Daly City, and her husband's brothers and sisters who include Angelo Benedetti of Millbrae, Larry, Lorenzo and Rico Benedetti, all of Daly City, Mrs. Isela Rogers of Oakland and Mrs. Joseph Lavagnino of Daly City.

A highlight of party was the announcement of the engagement of the couple's grandson, William Silva of Martinez, to Mai Lin Woo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Woo of Pacheco.

William and Mai, who are students at Diablo Valley College, will be married in the fall of 1973. The Benedettis have five other grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Penlan of St. Helena who were present at the couple's wedding and had not seen them in the intervening years.

A machinist before his retirement, Benedetti has been active for the past 42 years as a volunteer in the Colma Fire Department.

Fuchsia Society

Plans Garden

Tour Sunday

The San Bruno Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will meet at 8 p.m., Friday at the Decima Allen School, 875 West Angus Ave., San Bruno.

Many of the club members are expecting to show fuchsias at the San Mateo County Floral Fiesta in late July and early August, and preparation of fuchsia plants for the Fiesta will be demonstrated by club members. Prize winning slides of fuchsia plants from the American Fuchsia Society annual competition will be shown. There will be a plant table and refreshments will be served. All those interested in the culture of fuchsias are invited to attend.

Four local gardens will be open to the public in a garden tour sponsored by the San Bruno Branch on Sunday, July 16, 1-5 p.m. The following club members will have open gardens at that time: Mr. and Mrs. Tod Anderson, 2730 Crestmoor Dr., San Bruno; Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Cantley, 59 Aura Vista, Millbrae; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Eby, 1137 Hillside Blvd., South San Francisco; Mrs. George Harrje, 260 Lewis Ave., Millbrae.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MADROSEN have returned from a trip to South Shore of Lake Tahoe where they went to "get away from it all" following the close of school.

TRAVELING a bit further afield for their vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Belotz who spent a relaxing week in Hawaii.

MRS. FRANK SPECHT of the Westlake Senior Citizens Club reminds all the over-fifty group that anyone wishing to perk up the tenor of his or her social life this summer can drop by the club meeting spot any Wednesday at 10 a.m. and make the acquaintance of some of the nicest people in town.

The club, which holds weekly meetings in the social hall of the Westlake Community Baptist Church, will continue a schedule of meetings and outings throughout the summer months.

NOT EXACTLY everyone's idea of a way to spend a restful vacation but one way to have a change of pace is to take a one hundred-mile hike.

Dave Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Hill of Westlake, has decided to spend two weeks seeing the state as John Muir saw it and so will be hiking approximately parallel to the famous naturalist's route during his holiday outing.

WHILE ON the subject of holidays, that is what our family is currently enjoying — our annual attempt to get back to nature and break the chilly fog from our bones.

This year our adventures have included one tire splitting open as we descended one of the steeper sections of Highway 49, a windy evening swim in an icy pond, a buzzing rattle snake under the front steps late in the evening as we prepared to go in the house for the night and an elegant display of fireworks in Reno's University of Nevada stadium for the July 4 celebration.

Jamaican Honeymoon For Couple

Wednesday, July 12, 1972 THE POST

Montego Bay was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jon McRee who were married at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Manhasset, N.Y.

The bride is the former Mary Lynn Gorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard G. Gorman of Manhasset. Mr. and Mrs. Neil J. McRee of Millbrae are the bridegroom's parents.

After the wedding, the newlyweds greeted well-wishers at a reception at the North Hempstead Country Club in Port Washington, N.Y. They are now living in San Francisco where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Army.

Mary Lynn said her vows in a full-length white silk organza and lace gown. Her attendants wore aqua organza costumes.

Kathleen Gorman was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids included Gail Bagby of Burlingame, Michael's sister, Kathleen Delhaugen of Maplewood, N.J. and Karen O'Donoghue of Arlington, Mass.

Best man duties were performed by R. Michael Sanders of New Jersey and guests were seated by Gerard G. Gorman, Mary Lynn's brother, John Marsala of New York and John Reed of Cambridge, Mass.

The new Mrs. McRee was graduated from St. Mary's High School in Manhasset and Marymount College in Tarrytown. She also has done graduate work at Suffolk University in Boston. Thomas Groman is her brother.

Coast Camp Fire Girls Return From Camp

District VI Camp Fire girls from Daly City, Pacifica and Half Moon Bay have recently finished a week of day camping at Sweetwood Ranch in Half Moon Bay.

Groups of all ages from Blue Birds through Jr. high joined in the week's activities. High school Horizon Club girls from Mrs. Charles Stühr's Daly City group served as aides to the groups.

Girls attended Monday through Friday from 9 to 3:30, and on Thursday night all girls in fourth grade and over stayed overnight.

Most Blue Bird groups cooked two or three meals during the week and Camp Fire and junior high girls cooked four to five meals. Each group planned their own menus and many interesting meals were planned. Girls cooked pocket stew, hamburgers, hot dogs, hobo stew and many other delicacies.

Among the many activities the girls enjoyed were making sand candles, flower arrangements in shells, sand painting and making jewelry from colored wire. Girls learned many outdoor skills such as reading a compass, tying knots and lashing. The junior high girls lashed together bamboo poles to form a windbreak in their area and also lashed smaller bamboo pieces together to form place mats.

Girls in the junior high group also rented horses from the nearby stables and went for trail ride.

Several specialists came to camp on different days to show the girls various skills. A photographer came and gave the girls valuable tips on proper ways to take pictures; a horseman came with his horse and showed the girls proper ways of mounting and dismounting.

Mrs. Page Fitzpatrick, a member of the District Committee and an expert on Indian lore showed girls Indian dances and discussed Indian customs. She also helped with Indian crafts.

Sweetwood Ranch is located right on the edge of the beach so hiking up and down the beach was another favorite activity at the camp.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

A friend of mine offers two definitions of summer vacation: (1) A time of rest and relaxation for the whole family. (2) A time when mother spends eight hours a day in the family car hauling kids from baseball practice to swimming lessons to music lessons to craft classes. Not to mention those medical and dental appointments that were put off until school ended.

Listening to her sad story, I suggested that she relax and read as she waited — outside pools, schools and offices.

She responded, "What relax? I'm too nervous to relax and read, I'm usually parked in a red zone and late for the next lesson and/or appointment."

Ah me, the perils of motherhood!

Even my busy friend has to get home and get that dinner on the table. In order to help her and you other nice gals, here's a recipe from the California Beef Council for a dish that's easy to make and most delicious.

VEAL FLORENTINE

1 1/2 lbs. veal, sirloin or minute steak (sliced about one-third inch thick)
1/4 cup olive or salad oil
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 Tablespoon finely chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon crumbled rosemary
1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 No. 303 (17 oz.) canned peas
1/4 cup dry white wine
1 1/2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
4 to 6 slices Monterey Jack or Mozzarella cheese
1 Tablespoon cornstarch

Brown the one and one-half pounds meat on both sides in the fourth cup oil. Add the fourth cup onions and one clove garlic. Cook slowly until onion is tender. Sprinkle meat with one tablespoon parsley, half teaspoon rosemary, 1/2 teaspoons salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper.

Pour in one-half cup liquid from peas and the fourth cup wine. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, about 20 minutes. Add mushrooms to meat and cook about 5 minutes. Pour drained peas over mushrooms. Top meat with sliced cheese. Cover and heat until peas are hot and cheese is melted. Remove meat to a warm serving dish.

Mix one tablespoon cornstarch with two tablespoons water and thicken sauce to desired consistency. Spoon peas around meat. Serves 4 to 6.

FROSTED APPLE SQUARES

2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 Tablespoon grated lemon rind
Two-thirds cup shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
4 large cooking apples, peeled and sliced
Three-fourths cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 Tablespoon milk

Combine the two cups flour, half cup sugar, fourth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon lemon rind. Cut in the two-thirds cup shortening and mix in the beaten egg. Pat half of this mixture into the bottom of a 9x9-inch pan.

Combine the 4 apples, peeled and sliced, with the three-fourths cup sugar and one teaspoon cinnamon; pour over bottom crust. Add the one Tablespoon milk to the remaining crust and spread over top of apples. Bake in 375-degree oven for 45 minutes. While still warm frost with glaze.

GLAZE

1 cup powdered sugar
2 Tablespoons milk
Combine one cup powdered sugar with two tablespoons milk.

CORRECTION:

In reading last week's recipe for Puddin' Oatmeal Cookies you may have noted that something was missing . . . one egg. The correct amount of vanilla is 1/2 teaspoon.

FIND OF THE WEEK

Tradition is something beautiful! These silverplated, gilt-lined goblets represent an old Dutch tradition. The couple drink to one another on their wedding day, and on each anniversary thereafter. Cadette Girl
Scouts Surprise
Co-Leader

A surprise breakfast planned by the adults and five Cadette Girl Scouts of Troop 2584, Andrea Altschuler, Laura Gomez, Chris Karkazis, Joan Scarpino and Gail Storman, recently honored co-leader Mrs. Marcia McGuirk.

Adults who delivered girls to the home of Mrs. Elia Gomez for the event included Mesdames Maria Karkazis and Joan Storman.

Six girls moving from the troop were given a remembrance. They included Connie McGuirk, Gail Storman, Linda Giragian, Laurie and Lynn Sherrin and Barbara Tomlin.

Other troop members surprised included Jeana Colabianchi, Cheryl Figone, Susan Fleigler, Kitty Freitas, Kim Gustafson, Rayna Morris, Kitty Noonan, Chris Plageman, Jill Shields, Renee Theis, Cathy Walters, Cheryl Young, producer, engineered Muskie's campaign. What their film shows about the shaping of a candidate comes from first-hand experience.

That expertise works with almost documentary honesty that will ring true for young audiences in the first blush of political activism.

"I'm an anti-Communist but election campaigning has become a crippling institution," Larner told us on a whistle-stop train campaign from Jacksonville, Fla., to Miami with all the attendant bands, banners and platform speeches at several towns along the way.

"Redford's Bill McKay is not McCarthy but many of the incidents in the film happened to him while we were working together."

"It's not so much that the public is gullible as it is the system by which a candidate is chosen. Gullible is

Make-Believe
Of a Film

MIAMI BEACH — The speechmaking, handshaking, band playing, posters, buttons and cameras in evidence at the Fontainebleau Hotel here today could be the setting of a movie. Instead, the make-believe of a film has imposed a reality on the Democratic Convention with a promotional campaign for Warner Bros. release, "The Candidate," to rival that of any of the nominees for office.

The Robert Redford starrer about an idealistic young attorney seduced into a big-time political California senatorial race by the belief that he can do it his way, is not Hollywood cashing in on a timely subject. Its credentials are more authentic and timely than that.

Written by 33-year-old Jeremy Larner, whose book, "Nobody Knows," is based on his involvement as Eugene McCarthy's speech writer in 1968; its producer is 33-year-old Michael Ritchie, who collaborated with Redford on "Downhill Racer," who has also worked on a number of political campaigns. Nelson Rising, associate producer, engineered Muskie's campaign. What their film shows about the shaping of a candidate comes from first-hand experience.

That expertise works with almost documentary honesty that will ring true for young audiences in the first blush of political activism.

not the right word. You ask people why they vote for a particular candidate and they'll tell you they don't know. Or they'll cite his good looks, youth or sincerity. They don't know what he stands for because something is wrong with the information process. It's the image-making machine."

"I have a dark view of human nature because of that."

"Even when a candidate thinks he has ideas, he doesn't. He'll pretend to know what they're talking about but actually the information is fed to him. Later he forgets the people, who helped him and he stood for."

"McKay's corruption is how a candidate gets carried away by the feedback."

"We have an absence of politics in the United States: only star-making machinery. As a creative person and a political activist, I'm only asking people to get involved and not vote for charisma."

Larner has marched in peace parades, been jailed in Chicago and even beaten up on occasion. He was asked to write speeches for McGovern this year but was too busy on the movie.

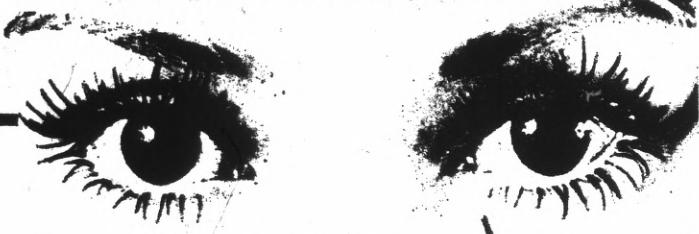

"It is not up to a film to preach or show alternatives. All we can do is show one side of a corrupt process."

"The film is like a comedy of the absurd. Nothing said by Ronald Reagan, and I followed him around, wasn't anything that McKay's conservative opponent wouldn't say. Actually, some of his speeches are direct quotes and paraphrases."

The author of "Drive, He Said," the movie starring Jack Nicholson, Larner is currently teaching at Harvard University while working on a novel based on his knowledge of movie people and political figures, "running around together in 1968 in a time of great confusion."

We put a lot into it. You can put a lot in it.

What you can put in: over 60 cubic feet. Put the rear seat down and there's 60.6 cubic feet of carrying space. For comparison: VW Squareback and Vega Kammback both give you a bit over 50 cubic feet.

Front Disc Brakes. Standard. And there's precise rack-and-pinion steering, which is normally found only in some of the more expensive sports cars.

2000cc Overhead Cam Engine. It's rugged, economical, peppy—and standard equipment. A 4-speed floor mounted all-synchromesh transmission is also standard.

Better idea for safety... buckle up!

N.M. Hassle Over Pete's One Delegate

Rep. Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey's one delegate vote for president, which he won in the New Mexico presidential primary, is expected to be a main issue of the upcoming state GOP convention in Albuquerque.

The Republicans will be faced with the question of who is to cast that one vote, McCloskey's only delegate vote in the nation, at the National Republican Convention.

Some New Mexico GOP members have said the convention should elect a McCloskey supporter as one of 14 delegates and alternates.

This group includes two top GOP candidates, Congressman Manuel Lujan Jr. and U.S. senatorial hopeful Pete Domenici.

Other Republican party members have indicated the convention should just elect the 14 delegates and alternates on basis of vote among the convention delegates.

President Nixon, who led the voting in New Mexico's June 6 Republican presidential primary, has 13 delegate votes from New Mexico.

Operation Identification in Pacifica by Police and Lions

"Operation Identification," a measure to prevent crime, is being introduced to Pacifica by the Pacifica Lions Club in cooperation with local police. The idea began in Monterey Park, in 1963 when homeowners responded to a police department circular and began engraving their driver's license number on all their valuable possessions, to identify them if stolen. Since then, only three burglaries have occurred in over 4000 participating households. By contrast over 1800 burglaries have been committed in 7000 non-participating households during the same period. That's less than one-tenth per cent for participants versus over 25 per cent for non-participants in the number of burglaries.

The local "OI" plan is encouraging citizens to stop by the Fairmont Homeowners Assn., along with a list of the items identified. Each citizen will be given a window sticker proclaiming, "all items of value on these premises have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies." The window sticker also acts as a preventive measure, states a Pacifica Police Dept. spokesman. "Once a burglar knows that the items in a house are marked and can easily be traced, he is likely to think twice about breaking in. In addition, the middleman or 'fence' who buys and sells stolen goods is wary of items that can be traced. If a fence won't buy an item, the thief has lost his market."

This makes all stolen valuables immediately traceable to their owner. The identity of the licensee and his correct address is available to any law enforcement officer immediately upon request via computer. A thief therefore cannot claim stolen property as his own if apprehended.

After engraving all valuables with a driver's license number, the Vibro-Gravers are returned to the police department or the Fairmont Improvement Assn., and borrow an electric engraver that engravess metal, glass, ceramics, plastic, and wood surfaces.

In graduation ceremonies at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., John T. Byrd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin J. Murray of 1057 Sycamore Drive, Millbrae, brought a close to four years of intense formal study.

A Daly City man was arrested and charged with assault to commit murder in Brisbane about 8:30 p.m. Thursday after he was allegedly seen chasing a woman at knifepoint.

Brisbane police officer John Santero reported he saw Lance Norris, 49, of 244 Rio Verde Street, Daly City, chasing a woman near the corner of Visitation and San Bruno avenues with a knife.

Santero disarmed Norris and booked him on the assault charge.

The victim said Norris picked her up in a San Francisco bar. She refused to accompany him to a Brisbane motel, according to her report to police, and jumped from Norris' car in Brisbane.

SSF Boy Explores Manhole; Falls, Breaks Both Ankles

Rickey Charles Trenholm is again. Then, police said, he apparently lost his footing about half-way up and fell back down, landing on both ankles.

His companion went for help. Construction workers Tom Galante and Gilbert Navaro crawled down the hole to help, while Daly City's firemen from Station 7 lifted the youth up "without either ankle touching the sides of the hole."

Trenholm is now resting comfortably in Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, hospital officials said.

CARRIER DUTY

Navy Airman Apprentice Orlando O. Refuerzo, son of Mrs. Marcelina O. Refuerzo of 333 Magnolia Street, Half Moon Bay, has reported for duty aboard the nuclear powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

Nineteen new units have been registered in the San Mateo County Council, Boy Scouts of America, during the last six months, according to Alvin Schwarzbach, chairman of the council organization and extension committee.

The Boy Scouts of America makes its program available in partnership with existing groups that have compatible goals, including religious, education, civic, fraternal, business, labor, and governmental bodies, Schwarzbach said.

New units are: Explorer Post 259, Garden Village P-TA Colma; Troop 157, South San Francisco Westborough Merchants Association; Troop 77, South San Francisco Club 77 and Troop 281, South San Francisco Hillside P-TA. Troop 213, El Granada, Residents' Association; Troop 224, Pacifica Bethel Church; Pack 285, Half Moon Bay Our Lady of the Pillar Church, and Pack 298, Pacifica San Andreas Parents group.

Troop 312, Hillsborough Group of Citizens; Pack 404, San Mateo group of Citizens; Troop 633, Menlo Park First Baptist Church, Posts 875 and 876, Keith Cole Photography, Redwood City.

"Scouting with its fun and adventure offers advancement skills, involvement in decision making, and Scouting ideals that are a personal challenge," he said.

"Scouting helps in the development of citizens who have a high degree of self-reliance and who have personal and stable values firmly based on religious concepts," Schwarzbach said.

"Scouts learn how to have the desire and the skills to help others, and they have an opportunity to understand the principles of the American social, economic, and governmental systems. They take pride in their American heritage, have a keen respect for the basic rights of all people, and are prepared to participate in and give leadership to American society."

Paul McNeil, manager of Chapel of the Highlands Mortuary, estimated that 800 persons Thursday night attended the separate rosaries for the girls, and made visitations to the youth.

"It was the most we've ever had in the mortuary," he said. "From 7 to 9:30 p.m. it was so crowded you couldn't move."

Commenting on the "well-behaved and well-mannered" visiting youths, McNeil said, "it's a fitting eulogy that they are leaving a group of youngsters this country doesn't have to worry too much about. They gave their respects with dignity."

There also was standing room only at St. Dunstan Church for the single mass offered by Father Joseph O'Connell Friday morning, and another crowd later in the day at the Chapel of the Highlands.

The three died as the result of a three-car crash which also injured six others.

In Plain Talk . . . BONDED BEEF is beef that Lucky guarantees to be flavorful, tender and superior in quality. If, for any reason, any cut of Lucky's beef fails to please you, the purchase price will be refunded cheerfully without question.

Lucky's BOND is a Guarantee . . . an Unconditional Guarantee of Satisfaction.

Because today's homemaker prefers lean, tender and flavorful beef, we BOND our beef unconditionally because we have our own strict quality standards specifically designed to warrant the confidence and satisfaction of Lucky customers. Our many years of experience in selecting beef, backed by extensive research studies made by leading universities, have shown that beef from youthful steers properly fed to produce a small-to-modest amount of intramuscular fat and a thin layer of outside fat, produces a tender and lean beef. Bonded Beef must be just old enough to have developed a full-bodied flavor, yet young enough to be tender and juicy. It must have enough marbling (streaks of fat throughout the meat) to give it a delicious taste, but without excessive fat which would only raise the cost per pound to the consumer, and is an economic waste.

Lucky Unconditionally Bonded Beef means quality that is consistent . . . beef you can always serve with pride and confidence . . . beef that is trimmed to give you more servings per pound.

With these important facts about Bonded Beef, we feel you will find meat shopping easier and more economical. Meat is important at Lucky . . . it's important to us because it's important to you. That's why you'll always find over 300 meat items available at Lucky at low everyday discount prices . . . every day of the week!

'Zero In on Safety' Month Proclamation

Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lyett has proclaimed July as "Zero In On Safety-Phase II" month.

His formal proclamation follows:

"Accidents claim more lives of children 1-7 years than the six leading diseases combined. Accidents kill more of our youths 7-15 years than all causes combined. To our overall population, accidents are the leading cause of death to persons 1-45 years of age."

"It is with the wish to inspire a rededication to the cause of accident prevention that the San Mateo County Safety Council in cooperation with the Independent Insurance Agents Association of San Mateo and Foster & Kleiser Outdoor Advertising developed the "Zero In On Safety-Phase II" Program.

"The "Zero In" Campaign provides a framework of motivation and promotion within which each company, trade association and government agency can Zero In on whatever specific safety issue needs priority attention; and

"WHEREAS, Zero In means calling attention of management, supervisors, and workers to the seriousness of losses due to accidents, and then reducing those losses; and

"WHEREAS, industrial leaders have proven that by influencing human behavior and attitudes, by improving tools and by controlling environment, accidents at work can be substantially reduced; and

"WHEREAS, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and the cities within the county have demonstrated and continued to support the activities of the San Mateo County Safety Council; and

"WHEREAS, Zero In means calling attention to the fact that Independence Day holiday claims the lives of hundreds of motorists; and

"WHEREAS, Zero In means Boating Week in July, now, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, that the City of Daly City congratulate the San Mateo County Community and industrial leaders for their dedicated services toward the prevention of accidents, and be it further

Palm Springs Trip for a Winning Dad

Lu Lu Hui really made points with her Papa this year on Father's Day. She proudly announced he was the winner of Serramonte Center's "Dad is King" contest.

Tse-Kin Hui was presented with a choice of four vacation trips by the Serramonte Center Merchants Association. Hui chose to go to Palm Springs on the sun and fun trip, with tennis in mind.

Hui came to the United States 2½ years ago. He is a graduate of Chiao-Tung University in Shanghai, China, and is retired after managing a shipping company for 21 years.

"Mrs. Hui is a housewife and raises a beautiful garden and is a very good cook," states Hui.

"My daughter Lu Lu is a good student and a fine artist."

Finlayson With Shell 35 Years

Damien Says Help Needed

Damien switchboard in Daly City says it needs volunteers. High school or college youths working or retired persons, housewives or company executives employed or unemployed — can be used.

"Our requirements are a genuine concern for people and their problems, young and old, and a willingness to take the time to learn about us and yourself," a spokesman for Damien said.

D.C. Library Gets N.Y. Times Weekly

The Daly City Public Library has announced the availability of The New York Times Large Type Weekly and the Enlarged Type Edition of Reader's Digest in the reading rooms at the John D. Daly and Westlake libraries.

According to Samuel C. Chandler, City Librarian, many adults in our community have a vision problem. They find it difficult to read the small type customarily used to print ordinary newspapers and magazines.

"Since we realize that the very people we're eager to reach are unable to read these publications, we hope your readers will be good enough to pass on the news," he said. "We hope you'll ask them to spread the word among friends and family members. We want people with limited vision to know that the library is trying to help them. In these publications, all the words are printed in type as large as some newspaper headlines.

"Too often, people who were once active members of our community have to take a back seat because they just can't keep up with events. We, at the Daly City Library, want to do something about it," he added.

The funds used to purchase these welcome additions to the library were provided by the Daly City Host Lions Club. They were part of the $2300 grant made to the library to aid patrons with sight problems.

The New York Times Large Type Weekly is a 32-page digest of The New York Times. It features a review of the week's major news stories; news analyses by such Times columnists as Russell Baker, Tom Wicker, and James Reston; cultural items, sports and business news, articles on food, fashions and family living.

The Reader's Digest Enlarged Type Edition contains about 100 pages of selected articles from current editions. Feature articles are included together with the usual Book

Section which digests a popular book, and also popular features, such as, Increase Your Work Power, Life in These United States, Personal Glimpses, and the interesting short items appearing at the ends of some stories.

The John D. Daly Library is located at 6351 Mission Street; the Westlake Library is at 275 Southgate Avenue.

Studies Show County Income up 61% in Decade

According to figures released today by the U.S. Department of Commerce, the average family income in San Mateo County increased $5,119 during the past decade.

This represents a whopping 61.3 per cent increase in average family income, but county planning economist M.D. Boat said "most of it" should be attributed to inflation.

"Inflation has increased an average of 4.5 per cent each year during the past 10," Boat noted.

The average family income in the county now stands at $13,222, according to the latest Commerce Department census figures, compared with $8,103 ten years ago.

Only one county in the state topped San Mateo County in average family income — that being Marin County with $13,935. The average per family income figure for all counties in California came to $10,732.

Despite the inflationary increase, however, San Mateo County residents are becoming more affluent.

A total of 178,012 households in the county now have at least one television set — representing more than 93 per cent of all county households. Ten years ago, the total was 126,385, according to census figures.

There were 6,857 housing units in the county with air conditioning, according to 1970 census figures — compared with 2,854 in 1960. A total of 136,334 homes have clothes washing machines, compared with 104,426 a decade ago.

Dishwashing machines are now located in at least 80,761 county residences. Boat said the Commerce Department didn't compile dishwashing figures during the 1960 census.

Owners occupied 113,948 housing units, according to the 1970 census — compared with 97,803 in 1960. During the same time period, the number of persons renting an apartment or housing unit almost doubled from 37,376 in 1960 to 71,180 in 1970.

The Commerce Department noted that 66,262 housing units in San Mateo County were built before 1949, and an additional 68,177 were constructed during the 1950's. More than 65,700 housing units were built during the 1960's.

The county's 1970 population stood at 556,234, according to the Commerce Department report, which noted there are an average of three persons per housing unit.

The 1970 census also noted that 82 per cent of the men in San Mateo County over 16 years old were in the labor force, while 46 per cent of the women in the same age were employed.

Sixty per cent of the county's workers held white collar jobs and 15 per cent were government workers.

Approximately 43 per cent of married women in the county work to supplement their husband's incomes.

A total of 164,361 persons from age three to 34 were enrolled in county schools.

The 1970 census report also disclosed that one out of six California residents are of Spanish heritage. Of the state's 19,957,304 total population, 3,101,589 had Spanish backgrounds.

Round-up of Playground Activity

Westlake School
Leader, Nancy Eichelberger
Summer means fun at Westlake School. Lots of activities will be held Monday through Friday from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. for all boys and girls.

Ping-pong, carroms, relay races and dodging for apples are a few of the contests to be held. Special events will be featured weekly; all day trips to various Bay Area sites on Tuesdays, (minimal cost); art and crafts on Thursdays at 12:30 p.m. (cost 10c) and full length movies at 12:30 p.m. on Fridays (cost 10c). Come and join the fun at Westlake School this summer.

George Washington Leader, Bill Wyant

George Washington this summer has been the scene of many activities. Trips have been scheduled all summer long. The Tuesday trips have been slated to Lake Temescal, Lake Anza, Knowland Zoo, Marin Town & Country Club and Fairyland in Oakland. On Wednesday, cartoons are shown immediately following Summer School. On Tuesday, for the younger set, storytelling sessions are held at 1:30 p.m.

George Washington School has a very successful baseball team with such stars as catcher George Acevedo and Shortstop Silvio Callado.

George has been the leading home run hitter with six and Silvio has four. Vincent Vargas has been a one game pitching winner against Panorama while Ron Hicks put in a superb performance by throwing a two hitter against F. D. Roosevelt.

Other talent includes Urmando Ojeda and his brother Rick.

Northridge Park Leader, Steve Becker

At Northridge Park, an exciting summer has begun with a variety of games and plenty of new faces to appreciate the old fog.

Karen Connolly and her sister Stacey have had many kickball games with the two Moyle's: Billy and Raymond.

In the strike-out competition, Wayne Wynn, Richard Rogers, Gavin Long, and Stanley Nalamura have battled other combinations throughout the past week and a half. The carrom board has had a lot of use lately as the Nelson sisters: "Dizzy" Diana and "Morning" Dawn, have competed against the likes of Diane Schori and Linda Rogers.

Denise Elliot and Paul Kisher have kept the park alive with their exciting soccer — kicking games that last throughout the day. Although they don't allow others in their close competition, they do set a good precedent for the younger park children.

Westmoor Park Leader, Lou Quint

The Westmoor Broom Hockey League went into its second week of play today with the Westmoor Blackhawks setting the pace for the second week in a row by taking a three game set from the Bruins, Rangers and Mapleleafs. Left wingers Greg Lipnick and Goalie Greg Wiener were both outstanding as Wiener allowed three goals in as many games and Lipnick poured in four goals from the left winger position.

In other action, the second place Mapleleafs crushed the slumping Rangers 6-1. Brendon Milton and Tony Deketele poured in three and two goals respectively. While in the morning session the Westmoor

Bruins showed the second best offensive punch in the league with Raymond Balagot pouring in eight goals in three games. But the Bruins showed little defense by losing to the Blackhawks 6-3 and the Rangers 5-4 in sudden death.

Players of the week voted by the public were Pat McMillan of the Bruins and Greg Wiener of the Blackhawks. For scores, game times, and ticket sales, contact Lou Quint leader at Westmoor Park.

M. P. Brown Leader, Joseph Boboschi

At Northridge Park, an exciting summer has begun with a variety of games and plenty of new faces to appreciate the old fog.

Karen Connolly and her sister Stacey have had many kickball games with the two Moyle's: Billy and Raymond.

In the strike-out competition, Wayne Wynn, Richard Rogers, Gavin Long, and Stanley Nalamura have battled other combinations throughout the past week and a half. The carrom board has had a lot of use lately as the Nelson sisters: "Dizzy" Diana and "Morning" Dawn, have competed against the likes of Diane Schori and Linda Rogers.

Denise Elliot and Paul Kisher have kept the park alive with their exciting soccer — kicking games that last throughout the day. Although they don't allow others in their close competition, they do set a good precedent for the younger park children.

Westmoor Park Leader, Lou Quint

The Westmoor Broom Hockey League went into its second week of play today with the Westmoor Blackhawks setting the pace for the second week in a row by taking a three game set from the Bruins, Rangers and Mapleleafs. Left wingers Greg Lipnick and Goalie Greg Wiener were both outstanding as Wiener allowed three goals in as many games and Lipnick poured in four goals from the left winger position.

In other action, the second place Mapleleafs crushed the slumping Rangers 6-1. Brendon Milton and Tony Deketele poured in three and two goals respectively. While in the morning session the Westmoor

Bruins showed the second best offensive punch in the league with Raymond Balagot pouring in eight goals in three games. But the Bruins showed little defense by losing to the Blackhawks 6-3 and the Rangers 5-4 in sudden death.

Players of the week voted by the public were Pat McMillan of the Bruins and Greg Wiener of the Blackhawks. For scores, game times, and ticket sales, contact Lou Quint leader at Westmoor Park.

George Washington this summer has been the scene of many activities. Trips have been scheduled all summer long. The Tuesday trips have been slated to Lake Temescal, Lake Anza, Knowland Zoo, Marin Town & Country Club and Fairyland in Oakland. On Wednesday, cartoons are shown immediately following Summer School. On Tuesday, for the younger set, storytelling sessions are held at 1:30 p.m.

North County Jail Need Seen

A report on the feasibility of a North County correctional facility is expected to be completed and turned over to the North County Council of Cities within 30 days for action.

The report is being drafted by prison expert Ray Meier of the American Justice Institute, a former warden of Terminal Island and McNeil Island federal prisons.

Meier is working under a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to determine the need for a "holding facility" in the North County.

Presently, North County cities must book their prisoners into the county jail at Redwood City and escort them the 50-odd miles between the facility and the Northern Judicial District Courthouse in South San Francisco.

Police departments have complained this system requires too much time and takes officers off their assigned beats in the cities.

A holding facility nearer the courthouse would solve the manpower problems, city police departments say.

South San Francisco police chief Sal Rosano told the city officials attending last week's NCCC meeting he understood Meier's report would favor such a facility.

Pacifica Councilman Harland Minshew and Chief Rosano were a committee of two formed to investigate the matter.

Minshew said a meeting had been held with San Mateo County Sheriff Earl Whitmore "full correctional facility."

Construction costs of such a jail will probably be about $2.5 million, cost some $300,000 per year to operate, and require 17.5 men for security, it was explained.

Minshew was given support by the NCCC membership to go back before the County Board of Supervisors and ask the matter be pursued further.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Fisherman Restaurant Opening This Month

The opening date of the new Fisherman Restaurant located bayside in Burlingame, will be announced in a matter of days. This is the latest word from Richard Patane, the handsome son of Salvatore Patane, who will be the Executive Chef. Both gentlemen are well known in San Francisco restaurant circles, and will share ownership of the restaurant with Alfredo Scardina, slated to be "The Fisherman's maître d'... If you happened in the Villa Hotel when a large number of attractive women were discussing airplanes, the natural explanation is that the Villa Hotel was the local headquarters for the famed Powder Puff Derby. Most of the women pilots lodged here prior to this year's coast-to-coast air race... The Iron Horse, located on San Francisco's Maiden Lane, has a well-deserved reputation for being an after-work haven for secretaries and executives from the nearby financial district. Besides an atmosphere of "boy meets girl and buys girl a drink," you will find a selection of complimentary hors d'oeuvres to whet your appetite during the cocktail hours.

CHEF EXTRAORDINARY — Chuck Simmers, an 18 year veteran under the Stickney restaurant banner, has taken over the chefs duties at Stickney's in San Mateo. Chuck has been well schooled in the "Stickney manner of production" by Owner Adrian Stickney, and his culinary know-how speaks for itself.

Vince's Crew Back On The Job

Even if you have never cared much for fish, if you will try some of Vince Licata's choice selections (he buys the best seafood for preparation by his masterful chefs), you will agree that here are specialties worthy of an epicure. Vince and his restaurant crew have been on vacation, and are back to serve you. You can order such dishes as Veal Parmigiana, Baked Lasagne, and Chicken Cacciatore from the Italian selections; and an array of seafood appetizers, cocktails, soups, large salads, sandwiches and tasty desserts. All portions are extremely generous... Although The Jade Dragon restaurant is in a new location, Jane and Arnold Lim still bill it as "Daly City's Oldest Chinese Restaurant." The reason being that the Lims formerly owned Westlake's Sai-Wu Gardens, which served resident of the North County for numerous years. Besides gourmet Chinese food, steak and lobster and fried chicken are served. You'll also find an intimate cocktail lounge... Grecian music is the big thing at the Balkan Village in Los Altos, but you'll hear other types, too. Louis Gundunas sings hits from "Fiddler on the Roof" and the Balkan Trio joins him in an hilarious novelty "Cigarettes and Whiskey and Wild, Wild Women (they'll drive you crazy, they'll drive you insane.)"

Valerian Is Musician's Musician

You owe yourself a visit to the Shirt Tail restaurant in Palo Alto, where the great Valerian entertains Thursdays through Saturdays at the piano in the intimate sunken cocktail lounge. He's a musician's musician, with a degree from the Yale School of Music. Valerian plays tuneful requests from semi-classics of Debussy to the latest by Burt Bacharach. Steve Situm adds his mellifluous voice and skill at the guitar on weekends... There's ample parking at The Red Cottage in Menlo Park, and every space is usually needed during the bustling luncheon hours and on weekends. This large parking facility, and its proximity to the restaurant, is just another example of the many nice things Owner Ken Parrett provides his patrons... Although southern-style dishes are behind the popularity of the New Southern Restaurant, the dinner menu also lists an appealing variety of continental dishes. Reno Donati, co-owner of this splendid South San Francisco restaurant, suggests Veal Scallopini or Veal Parmigiana, if you fancy Italian dishes... Due to a previously scheduled engagement, The Wild Bunch will cut short their extended engagement at the Royal Coach Motor Hotel in San Mateo. The versatile group will entertain in the lounge through Saturday, July 22.

Quality Food Expertly Prepared

Nick Gust, managing-owner of three outstanding Pacifica restaurants located at the shoreline of Rockaway Beach — Nick's Restaurant and Lounge, The Papagayo Room, and The Moonraker — has won an impressive clientele ranging from stars of the sports and entertainment world, to thousands of visitors and residents. Nick's formula is simple — quality food expertly prepared and attractively presented in pleasant surroundings at reasonable prices. The menu at Nick's restaurant is extensive — covering the many meal possibilities from breakfast (service from 10 a.m.) to late dinner. Entrées include a wide choice from the broiler to seafood specialties. A Gourmet's Delight is the Combination Seafood plate (prawns, scallops, abalone, sole). Veal Scallopini Marsala, with fresh mushrooms and garden herbs blended together, is another favorite... At The Moonraker, you dine sumptuously on Continental cuisine and relax in comfortable chairs or over-size booths, while before you spreads the Pacific Ocean with its restless breakers and ever-changing tides. Day or night, the vistas framed by the picture windows from the tiered dining room and lounge are reason enough for lingering over coffee or cocktails... Downstairs is the famous Papagayo Room featuring a menu of south-of-the-border dishes. Now being offered as your introduction to these zesty recipes, the coupon running in Nick's advertisement on Bright Lights will give you a choice of two — pay for one.

Brabham Racer At Serramonte

Ron Southern of San Jose will show his Brabham Formula C by Jack Brabham, (famous Indianapolis Contractor and former world champion.) It has a Cosworth Ford engine of 100 cc displacement and weighs approximately 900 pounds. Its top speed is 140 mph.

The car was built in England. Among Ron Southern's successes are: 1970 San Francisco Regional Champion, 1971 San Francisco Regional Champion, 1971 National Champion, Northern Pacific Division, 1972 San Francisco Region and Northern Pacific Division. Current points leader (6-5-7).

Lap Records in Class: Laguna Seca Raceways, Monterey, Riverside National Raceway, Riverside, Vacaville Raceway, Vacaville.

The show is free and open to the public from 9:30 to 9:30 daily, 9:30 to 5:30 Saturday and 12 to 5, June 14 through 18.

The Men's Softball League in Pacifica completed the ninth week of action this past week, with the Pacifican, Daly City Toyota, Theison Glass and Badmen all picking up victories.

Charlie Rueff and Dick Jensen pounded out three hits apiece, as Toyota got back on the winning track, whipping Mom's, 16-11. Pat Kenny paced Mom's by going "three by three" in the loss.

In the offensive "battle of the week," the Pacifican's out slugged the Chile Chokers, 25-16. The Pacifican's were led by Alton Tomlinson and Curtis Still worth, rapping out five hits apiece in the win. The Choker were raced by Mike Anda and Joe Garcia with four hits each.

Henry Katen went "four for four," but it was not enough, as Theison Glass clipped Manor Barber, 10-9. The victory moved Theison Glass back into third place. Barry Carli and Larry Ferrari had three hits each in the victory for Theison.

The Budines rolled to their third straight victory, and they edged Campbell Realty, 10-8. Al Saisi pounded out four hits, including a home run, for the Budmen.

'Don't Build On the High Ground'

South San Francisco Councilman Bill Borba last week suggested the only way to prevent future flooding of Colma Creek was to put a halt to construction on the high ground.

This building stoppage would include construction in South San Francisco, Daly City and Colma.

Borba said he was prepared to seek an injunction to stop the building immediately as a means to emphasize the city's plight and get other entities concerned enough to work out a flood control solution.

The council decided it would get together with its legal staff to discuss whether in fact there was any basis for such a legal move.

Deputy City Attorney John Shaw said "it would be a far-reaching suit." He suggested exploring the legalities involved.

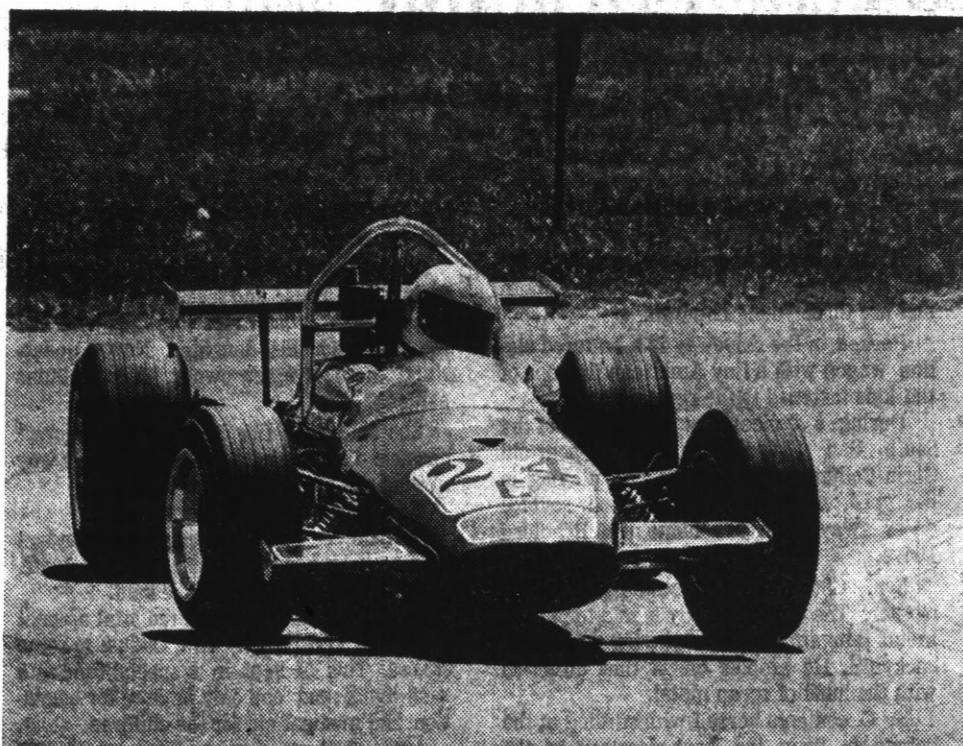

City Manager Gale Dreisbach noted that such a suit would be opening the possibility of "inverse condemnation," since developers in good faith had followed all the city's requirements in order to build in the area of concern.

According to City Planner Dan Pass such an injunction would stop 20 dwelling units a week from being completed in South San Francisco alone. He said it would affect three huge developments on the high ground and two subdivisions on the lower level.

Softball League For D.C. Girls?

The Daly City Recreation Department is trying to organize a softball league for girls from the fifth through the eighth grades. A response from the community is needed.

The league would be broken into a fifth and sixth grade league and a seventh and eighth grade league. Adults interested in coaching or helping to organize the league, should contact Recreation Supervisor John Cannon.

The Weights of Each of Us

1/73,210,163!

That was the weight of each vote in the 1968 Presidential election. Each California voter that year cast a ballot representing 1/7,251,587 of the state's total.

This doesn't sound like much — at first glance each of us appears like a grain of sugar in a large sugarbowl. But Americans find this input reasonably satisfying. Adjusted to a pluralistic society, we accept the weight of numbers but earnestly seek fairness and equality in having our individual votes count.

CONCERNED

We are concerned, therefore, with those systemic flaws and aberrations that make our votes mean less. We worry that money may speak too loudly in elections. The Congressional seniority system and legislative lobbying are under rising attack. We ask if the Electoral College should be abolished. All of these concerns, it should be noted, are directed toward institutions and practices that intervene between the voter and his government.

BALANCE

The sole check or balance on a convention and its possible stupidities or excesses is with the people at election time. Its announced candidates can, after all, be defeated in November. Conventions, however, can and sometimes do thwart the will of the people and their demouement in November is small recompense to the disenchanted.

The American voter may well enjoy the color, the excitement and the spectacle at Miami Beach. But sitting at his television set, the individual citizen will feel like a stranger with his nose pressed to the window trying to see what is going on inside.

Conventions, it seems, are a peculiar way to manipulate a democracy, and deprive us of responsibility. As the delegate selection process varies bizarrely from state to state, there is no common pressure point of accountability. A congressman can

DISAPPEAR

The members of a convention have no continuing or common constituency. Once the convention has adjourned, its members need not run for reelection — they can disappear into home pastures with no enduring sense of responsibility. As the delegate selection process varies bizarrely from state to state, there is no common pressure point of accountability. A congressman can

By FRANK LaPIERRE

It isn't much of a house, as houses go, but it's home to Mrs. Jacqueline Collum and her three young children.

Parked in the driveway is a battered station wagon with a tiny American flag one of the kids fastened to the radio antenna.

During a typical day in the life of the South San Francisco family, 7-year-old Chris Collum packs a white cat, playing in the yard, back to its rightful owner several doors away from her home at 13 Bradford Drive.

Son, Chuck, gets a scolding from his mother. The 8-year-old boy is told to put the metal thingamabob he is playing with in the backyard. He ambles off in that direction with the hunk of scrap metal.

K. C. contents herself with smiling at the goings-on from the front doorway of the home.

At 13, K. C. (short for Katherine Collum) is the eldest daughter.

Just a "normal" family concerned with the everyday process of living, a passerby would think. Actually, nothing could be further from the truth!

There is a story at 13 Bradford Drive of one woman's fight to keep her dying family together under one roof — at least until some "miracle" is discovered that will save her children.

The first Collum child to die from the mysterious Batten's Disease was Patty. She died last September at age 13.

K. C. is already blind, one of the first signs of the non-contagious and usually fatal disease.

Chuck is husky and full of life. He, too, is blind.

Little Chris is seven years old and is mother's helper.

"Without Chris I don't know what I would do. She is also starting to lose her sight," Mrs. Collum said.

Help for the family, in the form of household items and money, has come in from all over the country.

Most folks pledged their help to the bitter end, a very few accused the attractive housewife of "playing this thing for all it's worth."

News of Mrs. Collum's latest setback, however, came from a highly placed San Mateo County official — not the woman herself.

According to the official, the woman and her three children must be out of the house — evicted if necessary — by July 15. She was supposed to have moved by June 1, but was able to obtain an extension from the owner, Harry Lynds of Oakland.

"Where will we go? One family wanted to buy this house and lease it to us, but Mr. Lynds wouldn't sell. He told me he needed the house for his daughter. Now I understand there is a new owner," Mrs. Collum said.

She said the children "needed the home" because they were able to find their way around the house and neighborhood.

She praised her neighbors.

"Whenever one of the children meanders off, a neighbor will bring them back. They're wonderful here," she said.

Donations have brought the total amount of money received by Mrs. Collum to some $23,000. This is kept in a special fund at a local bank and can only be used for education and medical aid for the children.

Mrs. Collum receives a total of $280 monthly for the children — housing, food, clothing and entertainment. (Welfare amounts to $180 and child support from her estranged husband now living in Texas is $100 monthly.)

If she owned her own home she would not be eligible for welfare "and then what would we do?"

Taking care of the children is a fulltime job.

"Doctors told me I could have them institutionalized. I couldn't do that. I want to keep them together and with me for just as long as we have to fight this thing," Mrs. Collum said.

She heard of a nutritionist and biochemist, Dr. Mary Allen, in Richmond, Virginia and sought her help.

"She has never treated this disease. However, she agreed to come out here to California to help," Mrs. Collum said.

Treatment will require about four weeks' hospitalization. During this period it will be determined what each child's cellular level is and what vitamins, if any, are missing.

Medical treatment is within reach of Mrs. Collum. Housing for the family is the immediate problem. And there appears to be no available housing in sight.

Bob Hagen, of the San Mateo County Housing Authority said HUD (Housing and Urban Development Department) limits rental of a three bedroom home to $185 and four-bedroom to $215.

Housing must be in the North County area, Hagen said.

"I've got so much going for me. I know everything will come all right," Mrs. Collum summed up her feelings on the eviction order.

Desk and Temper Runneth Over

MY DESK RUNNETH OVER and so doth my temper. Frankly I'm tired of having my intelligence insulted by the goings-on in the Jefferson Elementary School District. And the apathetic attitude of district taxpayers bemuses me no end. One the one hand they rant and rave about increased taxes and yet they voice no public opposition when the people responsible for those increased taxes travel to and fro on their money, winning and dining away those hours and dollars. Where do they think this money goes that necessitates the increased budget year after year?

THE ADMINISTRATION blames higher costs of education due mainly to teachers asking for more money. That's so much balderdash and they know it. Certainly, teachers get more money nowadays. But so do firemen, policemen and city workers. Why doesn't Daly City raise its tax rate? The school district proposes raising its rate by 21 cents. Belt tightening is seemingly unheard of in the JESD. The trustees and administration still wheel around the country, living it up on tax money. The district's Personnel Commission likewise breaks its collective neck to hurry around attending conferences here, there and everywhere.

AND IN THE SAME BREATH that the taxpayer uses to moan when he gets his tax bill, he excuses — worse, he SANCTIONS — the thousands of dollars spent on junkets by these officials and justifies them because, as a familiar saying goes, "Trustees aren't paid for all the time they put in."

What utter nonsense. What drivel.

How many people even give a cursory glance to the annual budget? Does the cost of keeping the district in glass arouse the taxpayer, even when it means he might be paying upwards of $22,000 for this service next year?

What ever happened to that old chestnut: "A penny saved is a penny earned." But, then, the JESD doesn't seem to deal in pennies nowadays.

THE WAY SOME SCHOOL OFFICIALS spend money on travel borders on contempt for the people they are sworn to represent. They are on the board of trustees because the people have elected them to be "trustees" of our money, children, public trust.

And yet — if you can really believe this — JESD Supt. Frank L. Greenwood, in a recent letter to James M. Parmelee, chief civil deputy district attorney, asked if it was all right to use tax money for such items as repairing a pair of trousers that were torn by a trustee while on a junket. If that's not enough, Greenwood wanted to know if our money could be used to launder a trustee's shirt and have his suit pressed so he or she might attend a conference looking sharp as a tack.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE Greenwood asked the D.A. if a board member could have his car repaired if it broke down on the way to a meeting. And would this same trustee (or administrator, we would assume) be eligible to have any hotel expenses repaid if he had to wait around while the car was repaired, perhaps for several days. Can what we are writing be true? Do our eyes fail us? These were but a few of the questions asked of Parmalee by our TRUSTEES elected to watch the spending of school tax money.

FOR THE MOST PART, it seems that's all the trustees are doing — watching our tax money melt away. To all Greenwood's queries D.A. Parmalee answered No. And he again reminded the district that the Revolving Cash Fund could not be used for advance travel money. But at the rate things are going in the JESD now, somehow these little obstacles will be gotten around with the usual 3-2 vote.

WE ALSO WANT to point up this fact: Regardless of what the city's "chosen few" may say in denouncing it, ALL the trustees and top administrators don't ramble around the country seeking out new conferences to attend with our money.

James Cranna, newest trustee, has displayed remarkable frugality in the travel expense field even as a member of the district Personnel Commission, a post he held prior to being elected to the board.

Ditto trustees Mrs. Dorothy Adams and Mrs. Beverly Forrester. It's unfortunate that the mere mention of the latter two trustees' names invokes raging anger from some folks around the area.

"THOSE TWO WOMEN," as their avowed opponents call them, supposedly waste everyone's time going over records of the district, nit-picking, and then directing blasts at those they think are wrongdoers. Many boards have members similar to "Those Women."

They do upset folks at times, but if they can save me a buck on my tax bill . . . let 'em snoop.

After all, they were elected, too, weren't they?

"THE SOUND ADVICE" is a barbershop quartet made up of Jan Jernigan (lead), Gwen Eklof (bass), Laurette Lee (tenor) and Tina Gomez (baritone). South City chamber executive VP, Les Davis, had the gals sing at the dinner meet of the North County Council of Cities the other night at the International Inn in South City. After listening to the gals, outgoing chairman of the NCCC, George Corey of San Bruno, said "This is the first time we've had entertainment that was meant to be entertainment."

DALY CITY OFFICIALDOM has told City Attorney Al Polonsky to have that car wash on the corner of Market and Hillside clean up or close up. Folks have complained about the place for years. City is finally listening.

Differences Between Condominium, Others

By LORENE BEASLEY

"What is a condominium? How does it differ from a rental apartment, a cooperative or a private home in privileges and responsibilities?"

The Council of Better Business Bureaus has issued a general report on condominiums stating that the word "condominium" legally means little more than "common ownership." It can be defined as a system of separate fee ownership of individual units in a multi-unit project, joined with an individual undivided interest in all elements owned in common.

A condominium owner enjoys the same comfort, privacy, investment and tax advantages as the individual homeowner. It also allows the owner the benefits of an apartment rental.

The condominium owner owns everything behind the front door and within the walls of the apartment in the same manner he would own a house individually. The buyer receives a deed, title, mortgage, tax shelter, possible equity accumulation and in a sale, rental rights and its own procedures.

HE AND HIS NEIGHBORS own all the common areas within the building and the surrounding grounds. Common areas include the lobby, hallways, elevators, stairways, storage rooms, garages and swimming pools.

Big Wig Swindle

A 22-year-old Daly City woman who used aliases, disguises and forged birth certificates in efforts to obtain unauthorized welfare assistance has been sentenced to county jail.

The six-months jail sentence was imposed Thursday by Superior Court Judge W. Howard Hartley after the defendant, Velma Alexander, pleaded guilty to a charge of making a false statement to obtain welfare benefits.

According to District Attorney Don Ferrero, the enormous and important Miss Alexander made at least power of being one of 70 or 80 three appearances, each time finding people who run with a different name and dis- show. There must be a better guised by a different wig, at the photostating process of an Welfare Department to seek an authentic certificate.

Elected Official Has One Mandate

During every election and for some time thereafter candidates talk about mandates from the people. But in the light of practical government the people give but one mandate to an elected official, and that is to perform in the public interest.

If it is necessary to change one's views to serve the public interest then the officeholder must change his views. If the public interest requires compromise to break an impasse then compromise he must.

In government, compromise is "The adjustment of differences among disputants through mutual concession by the parties involved." Continuing their definition the authors of the "Dictionary of American Politics" write, "Compromises are a normal part of the actions and to translate the choices thus made into assemblies."

With this in mind, no officeholder can believe that the people expect him to perpetrate the disunion of boards and councils when the public interest calls for unity. As Baumer and Herzberg wrote in their book, "Politics Is Your Business," "... politics is not wholly a me first game. You will discover that . . . in politics you will have to consider and accommodate many other points of view, in order to develop a wholesome program for the entire community."

Writing of politics in action in their text, "Contemporary Political Systems," Professors Abcarian and Masanat state that the business of government is to adjudicate between competing prescriptions for public actions and to translate the choices thus made into public policies.

"Basic functions of government," they write, "include the resolution of conflict and the authoritative allocation of certain advantages and disadvantages with a community or nation."

Surely it is not a sellout for an officeholder to reexamine his philosophy, views, and ideals as he sits as a public adjudicator.

If a choice must be made between the public interest and an officeholder's philosophy, views and ideals, then the public interest must be accorded the first priority.

To this end Sen. Hugh Scott wrote to public officials, "In the United States, the person has some say as to how the people function. To what degree and in what quantity and with what intelligence persons act and interact to strengthen the people, to that extent can be measured the freedom of our society."

Sen. Scott's book, "How to Run for Public Office and Win," is a valuable commentary for people who participate in government. There are many similar books in every public library. Each offers hours of informative reading to both officeholders and voters. Each should be widely read.

High School
Grads Snub Pros

(First of a two-part column)

Two of the Bay Area's better baseball prospects — John Racanelli of Terra Nova and Kenny Smith of Jefferson — have thus far left professional baseball contracts unsigned and have instead opted for college letters of intent; Racanelli for USC, Smith for USD (University of San Diego).

Neither young man was picked as high in the free-agent draft nor offered as much money as some of their admirers had expected.

Racanelli was taken by the Giants on the ninth round, or at least that's how it was publicized in the local press. According to the Sporting News' "official" list, he was chosen on the tenth round. But no matter, he was passed up by a lot of teams for a lot of other men, because 234 other players were picked before he was. He was offered what a Giant representative has characterized as "a fair offer," which in baseball parlance means $8-10,000 certainly not the $50,000 many local followers thought he might be offered.

Smith was drafted by the Dodgers on the twenty-fifth round, which means that 582 prospects were drafted ahead of him. There is no indication that the Dodgers preferred him even a "fair offer."

Still, it wouldn't be easy to find two better prospects for major league placement than Racanelli and Smith, at least on paper.

Racanelli is almost hard to believe. He himself considers his worst sport to be basketball (says he's too short at 6-1), and won't even go out for it at USC. Yet in his senior year he broke team records for most points in a season, most in a game, and most rebounds in a season, led the NPL in scoring (21.4 average) and rebounding; was team captain, team Most Valuable Player, was a unanimous All-NPL, and second team All-County.

As quarterback-defensive back, he was team captain, team Most Valuable Player, set team passing, place-kicking and punting records, and was second team All-NPL.

In baseball he had only a 4-4 record last season because of poor support, but he had an ERA of 1.20, struck out 127 in 83 innings, played the outfield when he wasn't pitching and led the team in hitting (.324), and was voted the league's MVP in both his junior and senior year.

Carrying virtually a straight A average in school, John was offered excellent scholarships to Arizona State, U.C. Berkeley and Stanford, among others, before he decided on USC ("They have great programs in both baseball and football."); was the only NPL athlete ever picked for the Helms Foundation Scholar-Athlete Hall of Fame, and was named San Mateo Times Prep Athlete of the Year.

Racanelli comes from a fine family (scouts sometimes scout family background almost as much as they scout player talent), is termed by everybody who meets him as "a nice kid," and it characterized by his coaches as modest, coachable and a 110 per cent effort guy.

Smith, too, is a good kid from a good family, is no slouch as a student, was one of Racanelli's stiffest competitors in The Times Athlete of the Year Award, and is one of only three athletes in the history of Jefferson to have his basketball number retired. (The other two are his older brothers, Pinky and Ed.)

Kenny has no "worst" sport. A great defensive player, he also holds Jeff basketball scoring records. Most veteran observers felt he was the best basketball player on the Peninsula last year. This opinion seemed to be borne out in fact when he was chosen for the recent North-South All-Star prep classic.

As an outfielder he led the NPL in batting this past season, and there are some who consider him perhaps the finest baseball prospect in the area in terms of raw potential. They look at his still-growing 6-5, 200-pound frame, drool at his strength and quickness, and envision another Dave Kingman in four or five years.

Considering all of the above, there seems to be two reasonable questions to answer: (1) Why the choice of college over the apparently more glamorous pro contract? (2) Why the relative snub from the pros?

The answers to both questions can only be surmised, because neither the athletes in question nor the baseball people concerned seem able, or willing, whatever the case may be, to articulate all of the motives involved.

One of the things, we do KNOW, however, is that pros don't easily throw huge wads of money at kids, for both real and contrived reasons. And although it's difficult to separate the real from the contrived, it's certain (Please See Page 24, Columns 1-2)

In Tryouts

FREDERICK, Md.—Cis Schafer of the Millbrae Lions Track Club and Nancy Mullian of Belmont fell short of their bid to qualify for the U.S. Olympic women's track team. Mullian, eight; Herb LaChance, six. Big Terry Mahoney led the Midgets in scoring with 11 points. The Hotshots ability to hold Mahoney to a low point total was the key in their victory.

Santa Clara's Schafer finished fifth behind winner Madeline Manning Jackson, the 1968 Olympic champion, who breezed to a win over top challengers Cheryl Toussaint and Carol Hudson with a 2:05.2 clocking.

Schafer ran 2:07.0, a good effort. Mullian did not place in the top six. No one in the field made the 2:05 Olympic qualifying standard (which must be met by non-winners).

Barbara Ferrell, the 24-year-old Los Angeles kindergartner, qualified for three events and narrowly missed making a fourth.

She won the 100-meter finals in 11.3, finished second behind 17-year-old Jackie Thompson in the 200 meters with an identical time of 23.4, and also ran the opening leg for the winning sprint relay team. She almost qualified in the long jump.

Nestle, Traveler Teams Lead Play in DC Slow-Pitch Loop

Industrial League

The Nestle team, featuring the fielding of Paul Tapia, defeated the IRS Team 4 to 1 to hold on to their slim lead in the Daly City Adult Industrial league. The French AC Blue Team upset the previously undefeated Travelers 4 to 3 in a real spell binder. Jim Phelan drove in the winning runs with a clutch single in the last inning.

Five teams are battling for the crown. The Broncos, Pacers, Midgets, Hotshots, and Vista-sades all size up as very capable ball clubs.

Ed Sillicani's Broncos downed

Bob Iretton's Pacers, 42-40.

Elmer Love led the winners in scoring with 16 points. Rick Kushner, of the Pacers, led all scorers with 17 points.

Bill Allen's Hotshots got a stiff test from Mike Scott's Midgets in the first half of their ball game, but the Hotshots came out firing in the second half and blasted the Midgets, 55-34. The Hotshots were leading by a 24-21 score after the first half and it seemed as if the Midgets would stay close.

But the Hotshots balanced offense got hot in the second half and really put it to the Midgets. Dave Fritz led the Hotshots in scoring with 18 points, Fritz was assisted by Bill Hurley, with 11 points; Eddie Eassa, 10, Steven Allen, eight; Herb LaChance, six. Big Terry Mahoney led the Midgets in scoring with 11 points. The Hotshots ability to hold Mahoney to a low point total was the key in their victory.

According to Ross, the boys believe that their efforts set some kind of record.

Recently, two boys in Daly City played the game non-stop for 32 hours. Ross said he and his group decided to utilize six players to make their marathon last longer.

The North County kids normally played in three-hour shifts and then rested for three hours. They began at 6 p.m. last Thursday and finished up at 6 p.m. this past Wednesday.

that all of the reasons are designed to get a great young athlete as cheaply as possible.

But to answer the first question, one need only remember that we live in a time in history when the acquirement of a formal education is considered almost a religious experience. Get it, the kids are told every day by their parents, their teachers, their printed and electronic media, and all doors will open, magic things will happen, and you might even go to heaven.

Professional baseball teams pay lip service to formal education because they know it's good public relations to revere college degrees, but they all know that many college baseball programs serve only the purpose of screwing up their prospects enough during their formative years to warrant complete re-training in fundamentals in the minors at an age when they should be starting to establish themselves in the Biggies.

If you really think the pros are hot for college prospects, check the annual free-agent drafts. Relatively few collegians are picked in the early rounds.

Pros may agree with their prospects that a college education is a good thing, but as they are nodding their heads, they are showing a contract under the noses of their prospects and telling them about all the Magna Cum Laudes who are out of work, how the contract is instant employment and a steady salary, how they can attend college in the winter months at the club's expense, how they can get started sooner on their pension plan, how a full-time college career can cut down earning potential career-wise because of the loss of professional training in those college years.

It is an irony that Racanelli's brains were one of the factors which kept him from being drafted higher; a fact which Racanelli "imagines" had some effect on his relatively lowly draft status, and a fact which one Giant spokesman concedes, "could have been" one of the things which kept him out of the high-bonus range. The pros figure that a kid with those smarts and that many full scholarship offers, just may be more interested in an campus than a diamond, so why waste a high pick?

Thus, question number one is at least reasonably answered. (And part of question number two.) Racanelli and Smith have evidently succumbed to the belief in the magic of a college degree, at least to the point where they are willing to accept scholarships even while probably suspecting that such acceptance could affect their status as future pros.

Soccer Play For Youth Is Launched

The Daly City summer soccer program for youngsters ages seven through 14 started Tuesday.

Now in its third year, the Daly City Recreation Division summer program is designed to teach the fundamentals at four separate playgrounds, Ben Franklin, Westmoor High, Skyline and Colma, on specified weekdays between 6 and 8 p.m.

All coaching is by the staff of the Westlake International Soccer Club, which recently guided about 90 youngsters through soccer league games and special soccer competitions.

All of the coaches are enthusiastic, they say, about the value of soccer as a game that promotes all-around physical fitness, increases stamina and endurance, teaches coordination, cooperation between players and team discipline — which includes abiding by soccer rules and the referee's decision. Soccer also enables youngsters to compete in terms of speed and skill rather than height and weight.

As youngsters graduate from the eight-week soccer program, they will be eligible to join the ranks of the Westlake International Soccer Club which six teams in league play this year.

Cougars Defeat OLM's Raiders

The LBYA Cougars edged the Hustlers, 3-2. Blake Chong again won for the Cougars.

Paul Rivas pitched a two-hitter as he lead the OLM Bluesox to an 11 to 1 victory over the OLPH Orioles. Kevin Chase had three singles and two RBI's.

Bruno Police Nab Drivers

An outbreak of drunk driving arrests was indicted by records at the San Bruno Police Department today.

Among those charged:

George A. Lipsie, 42, 454 Lewis Lane, Pacifica, a San Bruno auto mechanic, also charged with driving with a suspended license. He is free on $912 bail, pending South San Francisco court appearance, July 23. He was arrested on El Camino Real near the police department July 6 after police noted him driving at 15 miles an hour.

Roger G. O'Donoghue, 36, 843 Madrone Avenue, Millbrae, arrested on El Camino Real near Crystal Springs Saturday, after police chased him down El Camino Real upon noting what they alleged to have been an illegal U-turn. He is free on $695 bail pending July 24 court appearance.

Charles L. Ferguson, 54, Redwood City television repairman, arrested on Huntington Avenue just south of San Mateo Avenue, Saturday, by police who noted a pickup truck driving five miles per hour.

Bruno Center Plan Revived

Bayhill Shopping Center is back in business.

San Bruno Mayor George Corey Monday night broke a tie on the City Council over a motion to refer to the Planning Commission a new plan for the 11-acre shopping center.

However, not all the critics, it turned out, were satisfied. When Tony Governale moved to refer the center back to the Planning Commission, Barnard asked: "What if we fail to send it back?"

"It will die where it is," Corey retorted.

Barnard and Neil Christal voted against the motion, while Governale and Margaret Kozkowski voted for it. Corey joined Governale and Mrs. Kozkowski in sending the plan on.

The council split in an identical manner in another vote.

J. F. Copeland, general manager of San Bruno Lincoln-Mercury, asked permission to use a trailer office on the firm's used car lot at 345 El Camino Real, since their lease ends June 1, 1974.

City Manager Gerald Minford recommended approval but only for one year, which would give the firm time to decide whether business warranted a permanent building.

"Why do they deserve a trailer office?" Barnard asked.

"They are considering not renewing their lease," Corey replied.

Barnard moved to deny permission "in view of our intent to upgrade El Camino Real." Christal seconded the motion, but Governale and Mrs. Kozkowski opposed it. The latter two were joined by the mayor—and the request was held over for two more weeks.

The new plan answered the critics by a slight reduction in the center's floor space — to 117,830 square feet. In addition, buildings proposed to border

4-Phase Plan

S.S.F. Battles Burglars

By BOB PETERSON

During the daylight hours on the Fourth of July someone broke into Mary Jane Harper's apartment on Maple Avenue in South San Francisco and escaped with a television and some jewelry. The loss was estimated at $700.

The next day someone stopped by the South San Francisco home of Edward Grotz on Hemlock Avenue and walked off with a 12-foot outboard runabout boat valued at $300, plus a lawn mower.

It's certain there's a similar report in the South San Francisco Police Department's files for the next day ... and the next ... and the next.

In fact, statistics bear out that for nearly every day of the year a burglary occurs in that city.

According to 1971 statistics, average property value loss in residential burglaries in South San Francisco was $467.

South San Francisco's Police Department as of Monday launched a four-point program to curtail this high and growing burglary rate.

Since the department has been unable to stop the burglar by the conventional method of investigation and prosecution, the police are aiming to curtail it by education before the act. Investigation and prosecution will not be reduced, however.

Police Chief Sal Rosano said he needs and expects to get "a good deal of community interest and participation" in the program.

This four-phase program, according to Rosano, is one of the most extensive residential burglary programs in the Bay Area because it contains the best of what a team of South San Francisco officers observed of similar programs, "and adds a few of our own ideas," said the chief.

It includes a property identification program, known as STOP (Stop Theft of Property), which enables a resident to check out an electric engraver from the police department at no cost. Ten engravers are available and may be kept for three days.

Detective Jim Kiskie said the preferable number to place on valuables is the driver's license number. The reason is that police have access to computers that can easily trace the owner of the property.

Residents also will be issued decals to be placed in windows to indicate that all valuables are marked for quick identification by police.

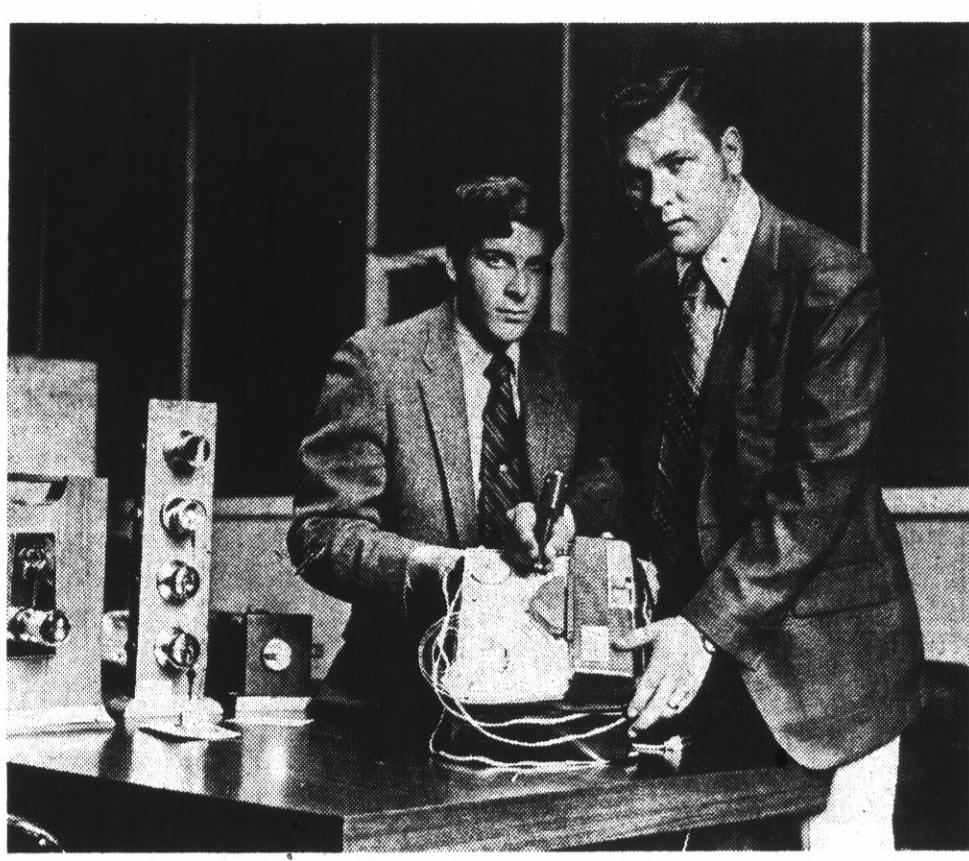

San Bruno was the first North County city to implement this burglary prevention move. It was first initiated with successful results in Monterey Park, according to Detective Kiskie.

Phase two of South San Francisco's program is a door-to-door security check by police reserves. Chief Rosano said 35 reserve officers recently received specialized training in home security.

"It is strictly voluntary," stressed the chief. "The inspections will be done any time it is convenient for the homeowner."

Rosano added that all neighborhood associations will be notified and appointments may be made through the associations.

The inspection is geared primarily to check the quality of MARKING VALUABLES is only a part of a four-phase burglary prevention program launched by the South San Francisco Police Department. locks, and what can be done to improve home security. Stockton first implemented this program and it reportedly resulted in drastic reduction in home burglaries.

Phase three implements an intensified program of homeowner and civic group burglary prevention talks. Similar public awareness programs had success in Pacifica, according to Kiskie.

Rosano said department personnel will be available to talk with any group desiring a speaker on burglary prevention. Subject matter will include burglary problems characteristic of the area.

"The burglary is our most reported crime," said Rosano, who also blamed the "alarming increase" on the fact San Francisco's federally funded anti-burglary effort has sent burglars to outlying areas such as South San Francisco to ply their trade.

Whereas San Francisco's crime fight is financed by Law Enforcement Assistance Association funding, South San Francisco, and other smaller cities, must finance its own campaigns to keep the crime rate down.

"When increased efforts to fight crime are instituted in large cities, the burglar invariably heads for the outlying area," said Rosano. "The thief is very mobile. He's on the average in his middle or late teens and most often there is a relationship between the burglary and a need to support a drug habit," said the chief.

With the fourth phase of the program Chief Rosano said he "anticipates some resistance." The reason is that the fourth phase is a proposed ordinance that will require minimum security standards on all new construction in the city.

"Just buying locks isn't going to lick the problem," said Kiskie.

Chief Rosano, although declining to cite any figures, said he hopes for a "drastic reduction" in the burglary rate within six months.

New San Bruno Aide Impressed

John J. Mulqueeney, San Bruno's newest city official, reported that he was "very impressed with San Bruno" upon his first day on the job Monday.

He fills the newly created position of assistant to the city manager. ("Don't call him assistant city manager" cautioned City Manager Gerald Minford, who explained that the new man will be concerned mainly with planning commission duties.)

Down in southern California, Mulqueeney explained, "Everything is so flat ... You seem to have the semblance here, also, of a good deal of open space, with rows of tall trees about ... with even some open country beyond."

Down south, he added, major streets have "an awful lot of block walls, creating concrete canyons, with mighty little attention paid to street trees, beyond a few one-gallon cans."

He had lots of praise for San Bruno's "nice, tree-lined streets" and expressed amazement of the care local homeowners give their homes and grounds.

Mulqueeney's first day on the job was spent with Minford driving him around the city, showing him its major streets, neighborhoods, and parks.

His family will remain at their home in Huntington Beach, where he formerly served as planning technician, for the remainder of the month.

Mulqueeney was impressed by the amount of use the city park and the recreation center appears to be getting.

"That's what you strive for in recreation," said the man whose last position before San Bruno was that of staff assistant to the director of parks and recreation for Anaheim.

He appeared to be somewhat cagey in making any observations about San Bruno's planning.

"I'm not making any more than just superficial observations," he said. "I first want to look in which direction the council and the planning commission wish to go." While he admitted seeing some things which displease him, he felt that he wanted

Name Millbrae Meet Delegates

Two representatives from the Millbrae Elementary School District have been selected as delegates to the 46th annual conference of the California School Employees Association, July 24 to 28 in San Jose.

They are Truman S. Thornton, 549 Fifth Avenue, San Bruno, a custodian at Lomita Park School; and Juanita L. Morgan, 250 North Idaho, San Mateo, executive secretary at the district office.

Announcement of the selections was made today by Virginia Baker, president of Millbrae Elementary CSEA Chapter 61.

An estimated 2,000 delegates and visitors from more than 580 association chapters will take part in the five-day conclave, she said.

The delegates will represent CSEA's 55,000-plus membership, which consists of classified school employees from throughout the state.

Two Arrested In SSF Theft

Mack Sennett would have been proud.

Scurrying around the car was the bartender and numerous bar patrons.

Hiding beneath the vehicle was a 17-year-old youth who had allegedly been caught red-handed taking six cases of beer from a storage room while the bar was open.

This is the scene police revealed in explaining the arrest of two individuals on suspicion of burglarizing the Bombay Club, 206 Grand Avenue, South San Francisco, at about 10:30 p.m., Monday.

Police said the juvenile was booked for burglary and transported to Hillcrest Juvenile Hall, Belmont.

Also arrested and charged with burglary was Arthur John Shaddox, 18, of 655 Baden Avenue.

Crash Hurts Pacifica Boy

A 10-year-old Pacifica boy is in good condition today at Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, after sustaining a hip injury Monday afternoon in a bicycle-car collision.

Edward Simmons, of 235 Glen Court, was taken to the hospital at about 2 p.m. after the bike he was riding collided with a car driven by Morris Lewenstein, of 3029 Riviera Street, Pacifica.

Police said the boy was riding his bike eastbound on Glen Court onto Skyline Boulevard when he collided with the car.
